

Knights of St. John Role Cited in Work Of Central Veroin

Second Catholic work carried on by the Catholic Central Veroin of America and the important post-war reconstruction of St. John's role in that work were outlined by former County Judge Philip H. Donnelly in an address to staff and lay officers of the First District Commandery meeting of Rochester Regiment, Friday evening at Headquarters, Franklin St.

Presiding at the meeting was Col. Frederick J. Wegman. Announcements were made that the Second and Third Degrees would be exemplified at St. Michael's Hall on Sunday, Mar. 28, at 7 P. M., with President Louis Kohn in charge. Local inspections will begin on April 1, and the Annual Field Mass will be celebrated by His Excellency, Bishop Kearney, at Holy Sepulchre Cemetery on Sunday, June 13.

Inviting the Knights to attend the regular meetings of the Rochester Branch, Central Veroin, held on the third Sunday afternoon of each month in St. Joseph's Hall, Judge Donnelly pointed out the good influence that resolutions adopted at both State and National Conventions exercised upon current questions.

He said that the Central Veroin has devoted much time to a study of post-war reconstruction and especially to the utterances of Pope Pius XII in that connection. In view of the materialistic approach taken by many who discussed post-war reconstruction, it is essential, he continued, that we make known the principles laid down by Pope Pius XII, particularly in the Christmas messages of the past four years.

Other Wartime Pamphlets

Judge Donnelly referred in particular to the work done by the Central Veroin in the distribution of the pamphlet titled "Guide Right." He stated that if one reads some of the printed matter handed to men at the time of induction into the armed forces, one will appreciate the timeliness and the importance of this pamphlet and how necessary it is to place it in the possession of as many as possible of those in the armed forces.

He said that the present is a time for united action, but of informed united action. The Central Veroin realizes that if the Catholic laity are to have a real influence upon present day questions, it is necessary for them to be informed. rein of Amer' a questions are taken up and approached in the light of the Papal Encyclicals and of the resolutions adopted at both National and State Conventions. Through this means the local branch strives to inform its members.

Regimental Chaplain Rev. Joseph H. Gaffell stated that he had attended most of the national conventions of the Catholic Central Veroin of America held in recent years. One must be present at these conventions, he continued, to appreciate the care that is taken throughout all discussions and especially in the drafting and adopting of the resolutions.

Colonel Wegman thanked Judge Donnelly for his remarks and assured him that the members of the Knights of St. John would take every necessary interest in the work of the local branch.

Many of those present stated that they were pleased to hear the work of the Central Veroin outlined and felt sure that much good would follow.

GIRL SCOUTS IN PLAY

The Girl Scouts of Troop 139 of Holy Family presented a three-act mystery play, "The Other Good," in the main auditorium of Holy Family School, with a cast of 25 under the direction of Miss Cemelina Haubner and Rev. Raymond J. Wahl.

The production met with such a great success in the opening night that about 1200 people were turned away. The play had to be presented four nights to accommodate the large crowds attending.

The troop has received several offers from clubs and organizations of the surrounding towns to represent their play.

The cast and directors wish to express their thanks and gratitude to the public for their co-operation for making it a tremendous success.
