USO Fetes Servicemen At St. Patrick's Day Dance

GENEVA—A gala St. Patrick's Day dance conducted by the USO brought a large number of men from Sampson Naval Training Station and from the Seneca Ordnance Depot. Over 100 "boots" on leave until 10 P. M. attended the early part of the dance.

Sampson Naval Orchestra under the direction of Senior Bandmaster E. L. Jones and his associate, R. L. Beavin furnished the music. Junior hostesses were provided by St. Stephen's Club. The Jewish Welfare Board which regularly provides hostesses on the 17th of each month swapped with St. Stephen's Club whose regular date is the 18th.

Senior hostesses were: Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Courney, chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Harold D. Brooke, Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Atkinson, Mr. and Mrs. John Gleason.

Refreshments were provided by the High St. Parent-Teachers Association.

Entertainment appropriate to St. Patrick's Day was presented under the direction of James F. Lynch and included tap dancing by James McHale and songs and Irish ballads by well known singers.

Decorations consisting of green bunting and Irish flags and decorations were handled by Chairman Fred Wainor's committee. Previous to the party a group of Junior Hostesses met and made up decorative bits for those attending.

Transportation of all the Junior Hostesses to their homes was taken care of by the Transportation committee headed by William E. Toole. The orchestra was also transported to and from the club under the committee's direction.

Checking was organized by Thomas Connelly and was handled by the Misses Madeline Buckley, chairman; Margaret Murphy, John Kennedy, Marion Kennedy, Elizabeth Hamill and Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Alvarez.

"Call the manager," he said. "I never saw anything so tough as this steak."
 "You will, sir," said the waiter, "if I call the manager."
