Army Emergency Relief Aids Dependents Of Soldiers

In keeping with the Army tradition that the soldier on the fighting front should not be handicapped by worries regarding the home front, Colonel John M. McDowell announced today that the Army Emergency Relief office at District No. 4, Second Service Command, 1028 Mercantile Building, 25 North St. is fully prepared to assist dependents of soldiers residing in Monroe, Livingston, Steuben, Allegany, Wyoming and Genesee counties.

Army Emergency Relief was organized to meet the emergency relief needs of the wives, parents, children, or close relatives of Army men who previously contributed to their support. After careful investigation shows the case to be worthy, the relief may take the form of cash grants, loans or other aid.

Fr. Richard Burns Speaker

Young Ladies' Sodality members will gather in St. George's hall on Tuesday evening, April 1, to hear the Rev. Richard K. Burns, professor of History and Italian at St. Andrew's Seminary, as guest speaker. The Sodality has invited other parish sodalities to send representatives for this talk. Delegates from St. Patrick's and St. John the Evangelist's sodalities have already accepted this invitation and will be represented by their delegates. The neighboring sodalities at St. Stanislaus, St. Theresa, and Holy Redeemer likewise have been asked to send representatives.

INFANT OF PRAGUE

Because of their great devotion to the Infant Jesus of Prague, the Sodality, after having given a statue of the Infant to the Church, will now attempt to increase greater and wider devotion to the Infant Jesus of Prague. At all of the Masses this Sunday, the young ladies will distribute leaflets with devotion prayers in honor of the Infant to all who are interested in, and would like to know more about the Infant.

An outstanding devotion, with its novel way of recitation, is known as the "Living Novena." This is included in the pamphlet along with many other prayers to the Infant Jesus.
