Strict Law Passed To Ban Evil Books, Films

COLUMBUS, O.—Legislation designed to strengthen present laws prohibiting the publishing, display and distribution of obscene literature and indecent motion pictures, unanimously passed the Ohio State Senate and has been sent to the House for action. The bill was sponsored by Senator James P. Griffith, of Mahoning County.

Under terms of the bill, the maximum penalty upon conviction, which had been a $50 fine, was raised to seven years' imprisonment and the minimum penalty was fixed at a $300 fine.

The bill also makes it obligatory upon magistrates to issue search warrants upon a request supported by an affidavit and places rewards outlying districts, which have no local law enforcement agency, under jurisdiction of county courts. The measure also strikes at the bootlegging and motion pictures.

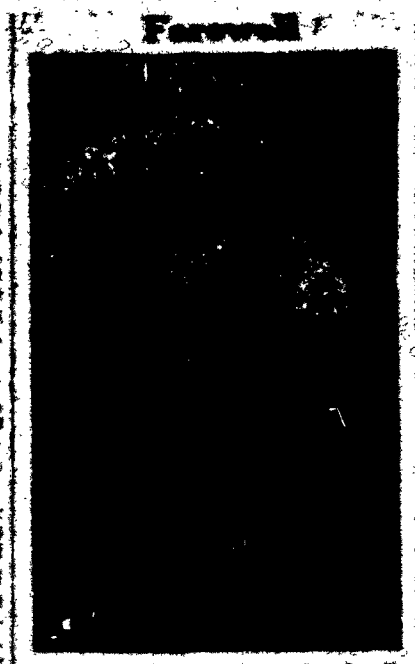
Senator Griffith, urging passage of the bill, said it was designed to combat juvenile delinquency and to correct abuse around Army camps.

FILM OF PARIS CATHEDRAL PRAISED BY SECULAR PRESS

NEW YORK.—The secular press here has been unanimous in its praise of the documentary film, "Our Lady of Paris," a pictorial record of Notre Dame Cathedral in Paris, which has been held over for a second week at the Little Carnegie Playhouse.

The Rev. Robert W. Gardner, of the Catholic Foreign Mission Society, Maryknoll, wrote the narrative and his voice is heard as the narrator. No living person appears in the film which runs for fifty minutes.

Farewell



About to leave for Maryknoll Missions in the other Americas, Father Donald Cleary, M. M., of Newark, N. J., gives his farewell blessing to his brother, Pvt. Raymond Cleary, now in the Army Air Corps. Twenty newly-ordained priests left Maryknoll, N. Y., in the third Latin American Departure ceremonies there this year. Father Cleary is en route to Puno, Peru. (N.C.W.C.)

Catholic Hour Message

Human Wisdom Alone Cannot Solve Peace Problems To Come, Avers Msgr. Sheen

NEW YORK—"The problems the world will face in shaping the peace that is to follow the war are difficult and thorny and "human wisdom and strength will not be enough to solve them bravely and justly," the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Fulton J. Sheen, of the Catholic University of America, declared in a radio address on the "Catholic Hour" here Sunday night. He added: "Only God can help us!"

Monsignor Sheen's subject was "Judgment of Nations" and his address was the thirteenth in a series of broadcasts which he is delivering on the "Catholic Hour" originating at Station WEAF here on the general theme "The Crisis in Christendom."

Examples from History

Declaring that history affords many examples of the Judgment of God, Monsignor Sheen maintained how forgetfulness of God had brought on the ruin of Jerusalem and Rome, and how "two great Americans expressed the conviction of Judgment in our own national life."

Speaking of Thomas Jefferson, who wrote, "All men are created equal," yet himself kept slaves, Monsignor Sheen said:

"Recognizing, however, the inconsistency and knowing that the blood of some men was in his own time being spilled by other men, because they were denied equality, he expressed his fear in these words: 'I trembled at my country, when I replied that God is just and that His justice does not sleep forever.' It was a language identical to that which Peter used against Rome. And well might Jefferson be concerned, for any nation which spills blood, either its own or another's, will have its own poured forth in reparation. We know well when the injustice was righted and the judgment came.

"One man was great enough to see in the Civil War, a manifestation of the Justice of God: Abraham Lincoln. 'It is the duty of nations as well as of men,' he said, 'to own their dependence upon the overruling power of God; to confess their sins and transgressions in humble sorrow, yet with assurance that genuine repentance will lead to mercy and pardon; and to recognize the sublime truth, announced in the Holy Scriptures and proven by all history that those nations only are blessed.'"

Declaration of Dependence

"To Jefferson," the speaker said, "goes the credit of writing our Declaration of Independence. To Lincoln goes the credit of writing our Declaration of Dependence. Jefferson declared we were independent from tyranny; Lincoln added, we are dependent on God. The ultimate encouragement in our fight for Rights, he told us, is our Bill of Duties."

Asserting that we will have greater burdens in peace than we will have in war, Monsignor Sheen continued:

"Oh! how we will need God's assistance to make effective in deed the words of our Atlantic Charter!

"Take, for example, the problem of Poland and Lithuania. These are not mere aspects of the problem of peace; they are the problems of world peace in miniature. On what we do to them will depend the peace of the world for the next century.

"First, they are small and weak nations from a political and a military point of view.

"Second, both have been violated by both sides in this war; by Germany and by Russia.

"Third, both have preserved the Christian culture upon which the democracy and the freedom of the world is grounded.

Freedom Sold Out

"For these reasons, they are the acid test and the ideals for which we are striving. What we do with them at the close of this war will prove:

"First; whether we are interested in preserving the rights of small and weak nations when a strong and powerful nation wishes to deprive them or refuses to consider either their rights or even the existence of these rights.

"Second, whether we are interested in preserving all peoples from a wicked philosophy of life which subjects free persons either to the Moloch of a race, or the Tyranny of a Class?

"Third, whether we are interested in preserving the Christian tradition in Europe and therefore the spiritual and moral grounds of democracy and freedom?"
