

Catholic Hour Message

Everyone Talking About It Proves Freedom In Peril, Declares Magr. Sheen

NEW YORK—Freedom is in definite danger and the best proof that we are threatened with losing it lies in the fact that everybody is talking about it. The Rt. Rev. Magr. Fulton Sheen, of the Catholic University of America, declared in a address delivered Sunday night on the "Catholic Hour" radio program.

The "Catholic Hour" is produced by the National Council of Catholic Men and is carried over a nation-wide network of the National Broadcasting Company.

"Today," Magr. Sheen said, "we shall speak about a grave danger facing the world—not America alone. That danger can be expressed in a word which is the language of everyone, namely, freedom."

Magr. Sheen said that the proof that we are in danger of losing it, is because everyone is talking about it. If you suddenly came into a country where everyone was talking about the health of the lungs, you would immediately conclude that a disastrous microbe was rampant. In the last war everyone spoke about 'making the world safe for democracy' and yet the world became so unsafe for democracy that within 21 years democracy had to stumble into another war to preserve itself.

"Now we ought to be worried about freedom, simply because everyone is talking about it. It strikes that most about freedom; the oppressed most about justice; the hungry, most about food."

"We are all agreed that the external threat to our freedom and the freedom of the world comes from the totalitarian States. There is no need to dwell on this. They are Hitler's conquests of territory, the anti-Christian advances against us."

from the totalitarian States. There is no need to dwell on this. They are Hitler's conquests of territory, the anti-Christian advances against us."

"But our point is that the gravest threat to freedom comes from within. I do not mean within America alone, I mean within the hearts and minds of men throughout the world."

"While the world is attempting to preserve freedom in the political order, it is surrendering it in those deeper realms upon which the political system rests."

"Picture a group of men in a room, each representing in some way and story the spirit of an architecture, while below, subterranean, have already happened out half the foundations of the house, and you have the picture of modern freedom."

"Freedom is also being lost in education today. This may seem to carry to some who have been shouting catch-words about freedom for freedom. But I think they are talking about freedom—not freedom. They are concerned with freedom from something; not freedom for something; they are interested only in freedom without law and discipline, rather than freedom within the law."

TUNA IS A 'POINT SAVER'? Have you tried it?

Learn how good BREAST-O-CHICKEN TUNA MEALS can be!

The protein you "need" for Breast-O-Chicken Tuna Meals can help you save time, double duty because you can combine this protein-rich food with other non-rational foods to make hearty, healthful meals.

Plan to serve at least one TUNA dinner a week

BREAST-O-CHICKEN Tuna Noodle Casserole

- 1 can Breast-O-Chicken
1/2 cup onion
2 hard-boiled eggs
2 cups cooked noodles

Mix a rich cream sauce in which the mixed meats are added. Place a layer of noodles in a buttered baking dish. Add a layer of Breast-O-Chicken Tuna and sliced hard-boiled eggs. Top with another layer of noodles and pour the sauce over the top. Bake in a moderate oven for thirty minutes.

7 oz. in only 3 points

NO WASTED FOOD

Use even the salad part

WESTGATE SEA PRODUCE Co

San Diego, Calif.

THESE BLOOD DONORS WILL RETURN

Commander Gene Tunney, U. S. N., former heavyweight champion, and Father Thomas F. Scannell, of St. Charles Church, Arlington, Va., wait their turn to give blood to a Red Cross mobile unit traveling through Virginia. The mobile unit is equipped with refrigerated, sterile jars and beds. Both Father Scannell and Commander Tunney said they would return for another blood donation in two months. American Red Cross photo. (M.C.W.C.)

Reading Of The Passion Urged For Holy Week

NEW YORK—The story of the Passion, Death, and Resurrection of Our Lord, as told in the four Gospels, brings us to a more appreciative realization of what His suffering has meant for all mankind," said Father John F. Steinhilber, one of the nation's outstanding professors of Scripture, in an interview today.

Commenting on the Catholic Biblical Association's New Testament reading program for Lent, he noted that the writer was concerned with the liturgical reading of those passages dealing with Christ's last days on earth as a most worthwhile personal investment for any Christian.

"America's 22,000,000 Catholics would do well to pause and reread, so we assume they have previously read or heard it from the pulpit—the original form of the story of Our Lord's supreme suffering, during the coming Passion Week."

"To appreciate the ritual of Holy Week," he went on, "we should know the sequence of events that brought about the First Holy Week. The four great Christian historians, Matthew, Mark, Luke and John, inspired as they were by their Master, have portrayed these momentous events for us in eloquent and simple beauty in their four Gospels. Nothing can take the place of reading these passages for ourselves. It behooves us as thinking Christians to remember the words of St. Jerome who said: 'Ignorance of the Bible, means ignorance of Christ.'"

Undoubtedly the great majority of Catholics at home and abroad will receive the Mass and Sacrament either on Palm or Easter Sunday. "With this in mind," Father Steinhilber reminded, "the devotion to the Holy Scriptures is related in the first books will bring particular insight."

Advertisement for East Side Savings Bank. Features a banner that says 'FREE AND CLEAR!' and the headline 'The Day Will Come'. Below the headline is an illustration of a man in a suit standing next to a large stack of money. The text describes a mortgage payoff plan: 'It'll be a great and happy day—a day when you'll feel that it's worth everything you have put into it—the day when your home is free and clear—when there is no mortgage debt and no more interest to pay. Plan that great day now! Come in and talk with our mortgage officers about modernizing your present mortgage loan. Let us put it on the popular pay-as-you-go basis. It's the smart way, the modern way to reduce your mortgage debt. Don't delay. You'll save money by modernizing your mortgage loan now. This bank is open each Monday Night from 6:30 to 8 P. M.' The bank name 'EAST SIDE Savings BANK' is prominently displayed at the bottom, with the address 'CORNER MAIN & CURTIS' and the slogan 'In the Heart of the Shopping District'.