OPA Rules On Used Refrigerators

On the heels of a new dealer regulation governing price ceilings and sale conditions of used refrigerators which is expected to release several thousand units held in dealers' stocks since May, 1942, OPA today announced a tightening of controls on the sale of used refrigerators by individual householders.

Effective Apr. 15, household sales will come under price ceilings for the first time. Under the old regulation, price control over used refrigerators was confined to the trade and private owners could sell these units at any price they could get. New ceilings will be the same for householders as for dealers.

This action is aimed primarily, it was said, at evasive practices that have appeared in the trade and that have encouraged abnormal household sales of appliances in areas of acute shortages. Similar action was taken last summer covering used typewriters and more recently in controlling sales of vacuum cleaner values. Used washing machine prices will soon be regulated in the same manner.

Dollars and cents price control is also inaugurated on retail resale of refrigerators. Maximum rental rates for the most popular priced cleaned refrigerators are fixed at $7.50 to $8.50 monthly with a delivery and pick-up charge of $1.50 allowed under the regulation.
