Printing of Hymnals Forbidden in Holland

NEW YORK.—The printing of hymnals and prayer-books has been forbidden in Nazi-occupied Holland, according to advices received here by the Netherlands Information Bureau.

The advices stated that when the order was issued a Catholic institution published a request for the loan of hymn books which had been printed in tens of thousands of copies before the war. Later it was reported that the appeal had been answered "graciously" and that many could be applied to those now without them.

Chaplain Tells of 'Greater Love' Death of Hero in Ship Sinking

PAWTUCKET, R. I.—The heroic and Christian death which befell Capt. Elwood J. Quart, U. S. Army, when the transport Coolidge was sunk in the Pacific was detailed in a letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood P. A. Quart, of this city, by the Rev. John F. Mahoney, chaplain, who was aboard the vessel with the captain.

"Greater love than this hath no man—that he lay down his life for his friends!" This was his production and will produce many men of heroic courage; but it is my opinion, and I am sure that of every man on that ship, there will be no greater hero than Captain Quart," Father Mahoney's letter read.

The letter stated Captain Quart had tied a rope about himself and fastened it to a railing to facilitate the rescue of many of his men on the slippery, water-filled ship. When the captain had expended nearly all his strength in saving others, two of his fellow officers were about to pull him to safety when the ship went down, the letter said. The two were shot to the surface as the ship submerged, but Captain Quart still was tied to the ship by the rope about his waist.

Father Mahoney assured the parents they need have no worry concerning the spiritual welfare of their son, who attended Mass and received Holy Communion every day, including the Feast of Christ the King, the day before his death.

"Captain Quart completed his service to his country and today he is in God's Heavenly Army," the chaplain wrote. "And with what rank he must have been welcomed by Him Who set us the example in giving His life that others might live! Captain Quart followed that example even unto death."

The letter told that a monument had been erected and dedicated to

Captain Quart's memory on shore just a few hundred yards from where the ship sank and a channel has been named in honor of the hero by the officers. Father Mahoney assured the grief-stricken parents:

"On the 26th of every month I will offer a Mass for him, and will pray that the first Gold Star Mother, who stood at the foot of the Cross of Christ, will help Capt. Quart's Gold Star Mother to stand bravely under the cross which now is hers."

NORWAY ANTI-JEWISH LAWS APPLIED TO GENTILE MATES

NEW YORK.—Jewish property confiscation laws in Norway hereafter will apply to Norwegians who refuse to separate from their Jewish husbands or wives, the Stockholm newspaper Svenska Dagbladet reported in a dispatch received today by the Office of War Information.

The Quilting edict provides that those affected must either procure divorces or otherwise make amends for their "racial dishonor" or take the consequences, the newspaper said.

AVERS CHRISTIAN VIRTUE MOST DOMINATE PEACE

JERSEY CITY.—There can be no peace without justice and no justice unless "the people submit to the yoke of Christian virtue," U. S. Senator Edward J. O'Mara declared in an address at the forty-third commencement of St. Peter's College here. The Most Rev. Thomas J. Walsh, Archbishop of Newark, presided at the ceremony.

A class of 43 students was graduated, including ten in absentia now in the armed service.

Priest Writes Book On 'Interest—Usury'

WASHINGTON.—Many years in the making a book titled "Interest and Usury" has just been published here under the authorship of the Rev. Bernard W. Dempsey, S.J., professor of economics at St. Louis University. The work summarizes modern thought on interest as expressed by several authorities, and brings together three late scholastic writers on interest, comparing their principles and conclusions with those of the modern economists. The book shows a remarkable aptness in the thought of Thomas Aquinas, and de Lugo to fit into current debate, although they lived three centuries ago.

MRS. SULLIVAN CHRISTENS DESTROYER NAMED FOR HER FIVE SAJOR HERO SONS

SAN FRANCISCO.—Walls tears streamed down her cheeks, Mrs. Thomas E. Sullivan, of Waterloo, Iowa, smothered a bottle of champagne against the bow of a new destroyer here Sunday and christened it in honor of her five Catholic hero sons—U.S.S. The Hull-veness.

Her five sons were lost last November when the cruiser Junco, on which they were serving, was sunk in a Pacific sea battle.

"I am proud to christen this lovely ship in the name of my five boys," Mrs. Sullivan told a throng of 5,000. "I only wish that my boys could be here to see this warship, but I know they must be happy that this ship is ready to go out there and carry on the fight."

"My boys and boys like them must be expected to defend our country. Instead of being sad and sorry, I am proud. I am proud that they were able to qualify for duty with the United States fleet."

Mrs. Sullivan was accompanied by her husband and her daughter, Genevieve, who soon will join the WAVES. Rear Admiral Clark H. Woodward, chief of the Navy's Incentive Division at Washington, paid a glowing tribute to Mrs. Sullivan for her heroic spirit in making a tour of the country's war plants to speed up production after she had been visited by the greatest tragedy of the war to strike one family.
