New Chaplain Tells How Young Soldiers Doing the Work of a 'Virtual Lay Apostle.'

Novenas Are Popular with Soldiers Stationed in Greenland. Elected Chaplain Walks.

Southwest Pacific

Greenland, Sept. 15.—A young chaplain, Capt. L. J. Leonard, has been elected to the post of chaplain for the island of Laysan, Hawaii. He will be the first Catholic chaplain to serve on the island since the arrival of the first missionaries in 1823. The island is a beautiful volcanic island with a population of about 1,500. It is one of the most isolated islands in the world. The chaplain will be responsible for the spiritual needs of the islanders and for the maintenance of the Catholic chapel on the island.

... as a chaplain in the Army. In a letter to the Most Rev. James H. Leonard, Bishop of Lafayette, Father Leonard described the work which had been done by the natives for him and the troops. Two chapels, he said, were built by them. The natives even fashioned a steeple for Chapel No. 1. He said the Communists rail logs were long and somewhat off, supported by pillars placed two feet apart. The pillars and the empty Japanese shell casings.

Somewhere With The Navy

A Navy chaplain's letter is filled with glowing praise of the aid rendered to him and a fellow Catholic chaplain by a young sailor. The identities of the chaplains and the ... sailor, obviously, are withheld. The letter stated: "Father ... and I have been very lucky in having a young sailor ... assisting me. He is in the Navy's Company on the base, but gives all his free time helping us in our work. He is well trained in catechism and gives excellent instructions, teaches Gregorian chant, explains the Mass, gives oral recitation of the Mass and explains the sacraments. He is not attached to the chaplain as a postman, but is one of those energetic Catholic young men who can do a great job for the Church. He has brought many a sailor back to Confession and has assisted in instructing nearly 20. His assistance has been a great help to us and a powerful example in bringing souls back to the Faith."

Greenland

The Most Reverend W. Beaumont

O.M.E., serving with the Army as a chaplain, reported:

"Last of East Camp again. Received this morning (last Wednesday) a letter from the chaplain to one of the camps. The men are conducting Novenas and they plan on one a month. During Lent they intend to have the Way of the Cross every evening. These are a grand thing and that can well be extended to all the beds here in Greenland.

"The beds fixed up here while I was away. I only wish you could see the lovely resting table and chairs they turned out. In the office there is a new clothes tree, bookstand and lamp. Say, I will not want to come home. The chapel is a knockout."

MEAT RECIPES USING CUTS WITH LOW RATION POINTS

3/4 lb. lamb (serves 2). Suitable cuts of lamb: Breast lamb, 3 ration points per lb.; Neck lamb, 4 ration points per lb.; Plain lamb, 5 ration points per lb.; Shank (fore), 4 ration points per lb.; Shoulder, 5 ration points per lb. Salt and pepper, flour, 2 onions (sliced), fat, 4 potatoes (diced), 4 carrots (diced), 2 turnips (diced), 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, if available.

Shoulder, neck, flank and shank of lamb or mutton are all good for Irish stew. Cut the meat in 2 inch cubes; sprinkle with salt, pepper and flour, and brown with the onions in 2 to 3 tablespoons of fat. Add water to cover and let lamb simmer 1 1/2 hours or until tender. Mutton takes more time, probably 2 1/2 to 3 hours. Add the diced vegetables and cook until tender. If the stew is not thick enough, mix 1 to 2 tablespoons flour with an equal quantity of cold water to make a smooth paste. To the paste add several spoonfuls of the stew, then stir the mixture into the rest of the stew and cook until smooth and thickened. Season with salt, pepper and parsley.

RAGOUT OF BEEF

3 lbs. Flank Beef, 4 ration points per pound, serves 6: Salt and pepper, flour, 1 onion (chopped), 1 green pepper (chopped), 1 cup chopped celery and leaves, 2 tablespoons chopped parsley, paprika. Cut the beef in inch cubes and sprinkle with salt, pepper and flour. Brown well in 2 to 3 tablespoons of fat, and while browning add the onion, green pepper, celery and parsley. Sprinkle with paprika, add water to cover, put on a lid, and cook slowly by 2 1/2 to 3 hours or until the meat is tender. If the stew is not thick enough, mix 1 to 2 tablespoons of flour to a smooth paste with an equal quantity of cold water. To the paste add several spoonfuls of the stew, then stir the mixture into the rest of the stew and cook until smooth and thickened. Season to taste with salt and pepper, adding, if desired, tomato catsup, or chili sauce, or grated horseradish.

Fewer Samaritans

(N.C.W.C. War Supplement) One of the elders of the fast dwindling Samaritan clan of Mt. Gerizim near Nablus, died in November, thereby reducing to only 181 the Samaritan population of the country. The deceased, known as Shimon Marjan, aged 78, was reputed the only surviving authority on ancient Samaritan music, and an expert in the law of his disappearing race.
