

Way of the World

The way of the world is the way of the beast and the dollar, but the way of Christ is the way of the spirit and the eternal reward—Rev. Paschal Ireland, O.S.B.

Nazareth 'World Court' Studies Papal Peace Plan

By DORIS DENLEA

Student interest is being focused these days on the formulation of a student World Court for the purpose of planning for International Peace and Rehabilitation. During the year preparations have been made by intensive study of the Papal Peace Program and peace plans proposed by scholars and statesmen.

The following girls have been chosen from the senior and junior classes to head the various commissions: Helen Conacher, human rights; Florence Sims, political; Virginia Sullivan, economic order; Patricia Goodwin, world unity; and Jeanne Taddy, rehabilitation.

A. L. C. Meeting

The college International Relations Club will be represented at the meeting of the national A. L. C. at Trinity College, Washington, D. C. on Monday, Apr. 26, by Margaret Dunlap, president of the club. The topic under discussion will be Unity for Peace After Victory. Miss Dunlap will be chairman of the committee considering the Catholic students' task in preparation for world rehabilitation.

Sodality Elects

The newly-elected Prefect of the Sodality of Our Lady is Mary Jane Schwartz. Dorothy O'Malley was elected to the office of vice-Prefect.

The first of the individual classes to elect officers in the future Junior class, which announces Rosemary Welch, president, and Beverly Jones, vice-president.

College Play Aides

Preparations are being completed for the college MNO production of Stage Door Campaign to be presented on May 6 and 7. Mariette Wickes is general manager of the affair. Jean Schantz, director, has made announcement of the following girls as committee chairmen: Florence McGinnis, music; Ann Stehle, stage; Jan O'Brien, publicity; Virginia Gould and Jean Flanagan, costumes and scenery; Joan Dugan, dancing; Jeanne Chavaroli, Betty Battersby, and Jessie Ann Butler, advertising; Rita Pieranda and Dorothy Reddington, properties; Patricia O'Grady, lights; Peggy Driscoll, tickets, and Madeline Nucitelli, posters.

ON THE HOME FRONT

A GAY FLOWER BED

Here is an adorable, dainty bed without the usual complicated frills. The washable cotton material for the full skirt and covered hood should have some body to it so that no lining will be required. A tiny flower pattern in pink and blue is most appropriate. Pink or blue bias tape may then be used for the edge bindings and for the corded waist at the top of the skirt and edges of hood sections. You will need eight yards of thirty-six-inch fabric; about twenty-four yards of bias tape and seven yards of elastic cord for a hassinet thirty-two inches long and thirty inches high. If you cannot find a hooded hassinet, wooden hoops from a salt or sugar barrel may be cut to fit and bolted to the sides of an ordinary clothes basket. A stand with a hand shelf like the one shown here, is substantial and easy to make.

Rev. Lucian Lauerma, Director of the N.C.C.W. School in Washington, has an inspiring article on the Catholic Pattern for Social Service in the April Monthly Message to affiliated organizations of the N.C.C.W.

We quote the final summary: "Self-giving with sacrifice is the heart beat of the Catholic pattern in social service."

In Algiers

In Algiers, a White Sister, traveling by camel, sets out to visit the sick Mohammedan women in a distant village; a picture taken in more peaceful days. Six White Sisters were killed in the bombing of Algiers where they staff a hospital. (N.C.W.C.)

1—Mix and sift dry ingredients.
2—Add peanut butter and cut into small pieces with a pastry blender.
3—Beat eggs, add milk, add to flour mixture and mix just enough to moisten, but do not beat.
4—Pour into greased hot pan and bake in preheated oven.

Hospital Retreat

Quito.—With the simultaneous collaboration of 15 priests, a retreat for patients and the staff was held at the Curia's Espeso clinic hospital here. At the same time the Catholic Working Women's League sponsored a week of spiritual exercises, closing with a corporate communion. In the past and by means of circulars women employed in banks, stores, offices, etc., were invited to attend.

ties in social service. Catholic social service means to love and do as Christ loved and did. Christ, our Leader, served His followers with a cross. The cross, symbol of another's burden which we carry, can be used as the final measure of service. No person lifts the burden of the cross. Our Lord prayed that the Chalice, might pass from Him. But the cross is the pattern. There can be no social service without it. The boys in the camp don't appreciate what we do" is a cross. "The boys of all-out care are crowded to run—infrequently" is a cross. "Mrs. X is delirious" is a cross. "Someone is always collecting for something" is a cross. "The doctor didn't even know I was there" is a cross. "The extra time and energy, the expense, numerous little irritations and impediments, might be the changes which obstruct active love of neighbor."

So, in brief, the Catholic pattern in social service consists in loving our neighbor with both heart and hand. Humbly and joyfully, without thought of rewards in praise or money, it implies giving ourselves in the assistance of others. If one has performed social service or has the chance to be of service, let him ask if the service makes itself into the form of a cross, instead of into the form of a wreath of honor, or a newspaper headline, or a glittering jewel of pride. If our service for others matches the outline of a cross, it is the Catholic pattern.

Apr. 26, Easter Monday, is also the Feast of Our Lady of Good Counsel, Patroness of N.C.C.W. Let us this year invoke her assistance with special fervor.

In the Augustinian Church in the little town of Chazambo, not far from Rome, is preserved the miraculous picture of Our Lady of Good Counsel. Many special privileges are accorded those who in the Augustinian Seminary Guild, Villanova, Pa. For example, the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass is offered daily, the Rosary is recited in common and Holy Communion offered weekly by the Seminary, and those enrolled are remembered daily by them in prayer.

May Easter be a joyous feast for all our Members!

Rochester Deanery Council, N.C.C.W. will hold its postponed meeting on Friday, Apr. 30, at 8:15 P. M. at the Columbus Civic Centre.

ENDORSE MRS. SULLIVAN AS 'TYPICAL MOTHER FOR 1943'

BROOKLYN—Mrs. Thomas Sullivan, mother of the five Sullivan boys who lost their lives on the U. S. S. Juneau, was endorsed for the honor of "The Typical Mother for 1943" by the National Department of the Catholic War Veterans and their ladies' auxiliaries, the Rev. Matthew J. Tobey, national chaplain, has announced.

In presenting the name of Mrs. Sullivan, Father Tobey said: "They were her own flesh and blood; she could not have given more. Her daughter has now entered the WAVES, and both she and her husband, despite their heart-breaking loss, toured the country to encourage others to make sacrifices for the perpetuation and restoration of the rights and freedom of mankind. "She will not be chosen as the patron saint of the Birth Control League, but perhaps the MOTHER OF CHRISTIANITY would like to adopt her as theirs. She raised a large family, educated them well, and kept them physically fit, so that when their country called for valiant sons to defend her honor, these boys volunteered and were found fit to endure the arduous duties of the U. S. Navy."

Jesuits Open Another School In India

BOMBAY, India.—Occasioned by the growing need for additional educational institutions, the Society of Jesus has decided to open a new school here. Founding of the school has been entrusted to Father Savall, noted Jesuit educator, who is Headmaster of St. Mary's High School.
