AUBURN—Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Opalka of 68 Ferrine Street, have received word from the War Department in Washington stating that "we regret to have to inform you

Wounded Flying Ace Visited By Parents

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Kemp, Sr. of 19 1/2 Seymour Street, went to New York last week to meet their son, First Lieut. John T. Kemp, an outstanding U. S. flier, upon his return from the battlefield on the Continent of Africa. Lieutenant Kemp, who has been in the service of Uncle Sam for over two years, is a graduate of St. Aloysius School, Seneca High School and attended St. Andrew's Seminary in Rochester and pursued further collegiate studies in Virginia. Lieutenant Kemp was one of Auburn's leading basketball players and held the feat shooting title. He also played basketball with the Columbian Glee Club of St. Alphonsus Church and was a leader in the organization.

Lieutenant Kemp is recuperating in the Old Forge General Hospital in Pheasantville, Pa., from wounds received in action on Feb. 23 in the North African war sector. Mr. and Mrs. Kemp had a reunion with their son last week at a New York Hospital. The father has returned to Auburn but Mrs. Kemp, the former Marie Brochu, is staying in Brooklyn, with a sister from whom she will make visits to her son.

that your son, PFC Stanley Opalka, has been killed in action in North Africa. Further information will follow.

Private First Class Opalka who enlisted in the U. S. Army two years ago, was 23 years old. He was graduated from St. Hyacinth's Parochial School after which he entered the employ of the Maloney Lumber Company but when he entered the service he was employed at the Columbian Rope Company. He was a member of Auburn West Polish Falcons of America with which organization, his father is affiliated. Besides his parents he is survived by two younger sisters, Irene and Arlene Opalka of Auburn.

Lieutenant Kemp, who was decorated with the Purple Heart for meritorious service, was reluctant to talk of his wounds and how he received them. He has one serious bullet wound through his shoulder, but, according to his father, is recovering nicely. Kemp took basic training at Curtis Field, Bradley, Texas. He gained his wings after seven and one-half months' training. He was sent to Ireland last June, then to England and to Gibraltar with the first invasion force. He had been in North Africa since last November. He saw considerable action in the air before he was wounded and temporarily "knocked out" of further service.
