

Father Loughlin Spurs K. C. Chaplains' Aid Drive

With a total of $1,346,859.50 in War Bond sales reported to the Supreme Council of the Knights of Columbus as Rochester Council's effort in the nation-wide campaign, the local knights are concentrating their efforts now on the Chaplains' Aid Campaign, a state-wide project.

Their quota of $40,000 well over the top, the knights are expressing their gratitude to the individual units and teams who made the large total possible through purchases of small and large War Bonds.

Chaplain J. V. Loughlin

Chaplain's Needs Cited Impetus to the Chaplains' Aid campaign which is being conducted to supply Mass Kits and the other needed articles for Catholic Chaplains in the armed forces was given last Thursday evening by Chaplain John V. Loughlin, Lieut. Senior Grade, U. S. Navy, who returned to Rochester for the first time since his enlistment in May, 1942.

Father Loughlin at the time of his enlistment was Librarian of St. Bonaventure's Seminary and Chaplain of Rochester Council, Knights of Columbus.

The Chaplains' Aid Association through which the funds are administered, Chaplain Loughlin said, makes sure that every boy in the services, wherever, from will be well taken care of.

He congratulated the knights on their campaign to date and assured them that this was the only way to assure the Chaplains everywhere of getting the articles they so sorely need.

Announcement was made that the campaign has been extended to May 31 when the New York State Council's convention opens in Albany. At that time the funds will be turned over to His Excellency, Bishop Kearney, State Chaplain in the form of a testimonial.

Closing the state convention on Saturday evening, May 29, will be the State Dinner at which Bishop Kearney will present the funds from all over the state to His Excellency, Bishop John P. O'Hara, C.S.C., Military Delegate of the Armed Forces.

The campaign in Rochester is being directed by Chairman Frank M. Beauchamp.

Brings Fellow-Soldier To Sacraments After 12 Years

Inducing his soldier-comrade to go on Easter Sunday to Confession and Holy Communion, after a 12-year lapse, has brought satisfaction and elation to a Rochester Corporal at Fort Benning, Ga.

Writing to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Slayton, 396 Humboldt St., St. John the Evangelist's parish, Corp. R. E. Clayton, 4th Co., 3rd S. T. R., Fort Benning, Ga., tells the story.

Here it is:

"Dear Folks: I'm just about caught up with my studies tonight so now for a few lines. Yes, yesterday was Easter Sunday and I must say it was a very happy and enjoyable one for me even though I thought many times how wonderful it would be to just see and talk with you folks for a short while. "Why was it so enjoyable for me even though away from home? Well, here's the answer. First of all I planned on going to Confession Saturday night and night before same to a fellow in my barracks who has been together since we were in the States. "He said, 'Say Slayton, I'll go to Church in the morning with you. "I then asked him to go with me to Confession and he replied, 'Oh, no, I've not been in 12 years and I'm afraid to start now, but I do go to Church nearly every Sunday.'"

"Can you imagine it, he regarded himself as a Catholic, yet he had not received the Sacraments in 12 years but goes to Church occasionally.

"Well, I hopped right on that boy and after about 20 minutes persuasion he got ready and went with me to Chapel. He had forgotten how to go to Confession, what to say, etc., so I coached him for about a half hour. I then went to Confession first and when I was through I told Father McMahon the situation and asked him to help the young man out when he came in next. He surely treated him fine for when he came out, the soldier's face was wreathed in smiles.

"We received Communion together Easter morning and golly, that fellow couldn't do enough for me the rest of the day. He said, 'Slayton, I'm really happy today and I'm writing my girl and mother that I've finally returned to God. If it had not been for you pushing me, I'd never have had the nerve to go.'"

"So you see, I have a very happy and devoted friend, all's well that ends well.

"Lovingly RALPH."

Msgr. Sheen To Lecture In Auburn On June 11

(Continued from Page 1) we have a war to win and we have a revolution to win. A war to win by overthrowing the power of the enemy in battle; a peace to win by making ourselves worthy to dictate it."

Each Sunday evening the Monsignor's voice goes out over the National hook-up with a program to make America worthy of peace and victory. Millions listen to him with rapt attention each Sunday from the moment he breathes his familiar greeting "Friends" until he closes his talk with his prayerful "God love you." Thus we have the background of America's popular radio speaker, the man who speaks on the largest religious network in history, the priest whose voice reaches into every part of the world and whose mail averages 12,000 letters a week.

The lecture committee is headed by Miss Helen Stapleton as general chairman, Harold Ballinger is in charge of arrangements, Fred

Armstrong is advertising manager assisted by James Elshew, Miss Isabel Stapleton and Mrs. Fred Armstrong are co-chairmen of the Ticket Committee and they will be assisted by a committee composed of prominent citizens. The sale of tickets commenced on Tuesday morning.
