

Enjoy Blessings

You will never enjoy the blessings of Christian simplicity if you...

are filled with worldly worry and... You will experience them if you learn to trust in God...

Father's Day June 20

Remember Father With TIES

50,000 People

Can't be wrong!

1.50 TIES ONLY 50c

Follow the crowd to the Hand Made Neckwear Co. 107 Main St. where you can now buy beautiful $1.50 neckties that for 50 cents.

HAND MADE NECKWEAR CO.

107 MAIN ST. E., near Water St.

Catholic Near East Welfare Association

Most Rev. Francis J. Spellman, D.D., President; Mr. Roy, Mgr. Bryan J. McEntegart, L.L.D., National Secretary; Rev. John A. Corrigan, Assistant Secretary.

Last Call

Thousands of poor children in our missions are being prepared for their First Holy Communion. You can help make the day memorable. Dress one poor child. Three Dollars will take care of everything.

BEG FOR BISHOP'S VISITATION

Bishop Noonan's diocese covers hundreds of miles. His care for the Catholics of the Chaldean Rite in Syria...

It is the desire of the Holy See that a work of such importance should not be allowed to be discontinued. This Apostolic Bishop, now well over sixty years of age...

We hope to raise this sum for his heroic priest, who waits their poverty-stricken bishop to visit them. We feel this amount will be received from our readers because such a worthy appeal will not go unanswered.

CHAPEL FURNISHINGS

We furnish a chapel in to do a great deed. Give to our chapel the Altar, Chalice, Ciborium, Set of Vestments, Missal, Altar Linens, Crucifix and Candelsticks. You can furnish these necessities for Divine Services for One Hundred Thirty-Two Dollars.

MEDICAL CARE

Do you know that our missionary priest and sister act as doctors for the poor people of the mission? Yes, they administer to needs of body, soul and body. Five Dollars will buy medicines for the poor sick of the mission.

GRADUATION GIFT

We suggest to priests and friends of young graduates to enroll them perpetually in our Association. Their gift will never become useless. The youth of these days of unrest need God's protection and grace. At the same time you will be helping the mission in these troublesome days.

Send all communications to

Catholic Near East Welfare Association

400 Lexington Ave. at 40th St.

New York, N. Y.

Words That Speak

A subtitle of the National Catholic Rural Life Conference, 1941 Grand Ave., Des Moines, Iowa.

Last month we looked into the origin and development of such common words as "rural," "farm" and "agriculture." We received some interesting reactions and requests for information about words, their meaning and their relationship. We shall gladly print suggestions and answer inquiries.

NEIGHBOR. We hear much about "good neighbor" policy, and about the whole world being "our neighbor." I wonder how many of us realize what the original meaning of the word was. In Anglo-Saxon, neighbor meant near, and German (German Haus) meant neighbor. I overheard a greeting in the courtyard of a New York apartment. "Hi, neighbor!" Of course, everyone in the apartment was surprised at such familiarity in New York. My surprise was philosophical. "Hi, neighbor-by-farmer?" What an anachronism among the Twentieth Century cliff dwellers!

PORK, VEAL, BEEF. In these days of rationing, you can go out to a farm and buy a live pig, a calf or a steer, but you have to clip off red and blue coupons for pork, veal and beef. It's all the same, but who eats pig, calf or steer? For our advance in civilization, we have to pay in coupons! To call an animal by one name when it grazes in the field and by another name when it grazes in the pan is not due to "English squeamishness and hypocrisy," as some claim.

The Normans conquered the Saxons and they brought with them the French terminology. While the Saxon peasant tended the swineherd or the pig, his master in the citadel his pork (pore is the French for pig). The calves were bawling in the barns of the Norman Marquis, but the liveried butler served veal (French for calf to veal). When the bullock (Anglo-Saxon steer, later steer) was slaughtered by the manor's butcher, it was referred to as beef (French for bullock-beef). If the tenderloin was turned on a spit over the coals by the maid-servant in the kitchen, it became a steak because it was cooked on a "stik." I have known steak to taste like sticks, but for a long time I did not know the relationship. Now I can explain it. It was merely a reversion to its original philological parentage. Fiddlesticks!

L. G. LIGHT

QUERIES and REPLIES

Why is it necessary for the Pope to have any temporal power?

The Pope is the spiritual head of three hundred million Catholics throughout the world. Even a man who is a spiritual head must keep his feet on the ground, and that ground should be common ground for all of his children whatever their nationality. They are not disembodied spirits any more than he is and their spiritual lives must be lived in material bodies on a material earth.

No one denies it unreasonable for the local minister to insist on living in his own parsonage rather than in someone else's home. No one objects if he prefers to hold his church services on his own church premises rather than in the County Courthouse. There is a place and proper procedure for everything. Yet people pretend to think it worldly and materialistic if the Pope insists on administering the affairs of the universal Church within territory that belongs to the Church and is free from outside control. The Pope claims no temporal power outside his own Papal State or Vatican City and that is a tiny territory of exactly 104.7 acres. He has as much right to that as any man has to his own home. (From the pen of Father Richard Felix, O.S.B., Delivered at the Faith, Conception, Missouri.)

War Bond To School

St. Louis. — Five high school seniors at Incarnate Word Academy here, decided to use the year's profits from their school paper for something else than financing the school annual, which usually is the custom. They took the profits and invested them in a War Bond which was presented to the school as their parting gift at graduation.

Bishop, Ill., Resigns

Vatican City. — The Most Rev. Natale Gabriele Maronini, 77, Bishop Caserta, Italy, has resigned his See because of ill health, and has been named by His Holiness Pope Pius XII to be Titular Archbishop of Bergopolis.

Mother General

Midras, India. — The Rev. Mother General of the Presentationist Order in India at a convention here attended by delegates of the various convents of the community.

FORDHAM UNIVERSITY

New York City

SUMMER SESSION—JULY 6—AUGUST 14

Graduate School of Arts and Sciences—Kearney Hall, University Campus. Biology, Chemistry, Classics, Economics, History, English, Philosophy, Physics, Psychology, Romance Languages, Sociology.

School of Education—Woodworth Bldg., 233 Broadway, New York City. Education, Classics, English, Modern Languages, History, Physical and Social Sciences, Philosophy, Religion. Special Mathematics Course for Service Appointees.

School of Social Service—134 East 39 Street, New York City. SPECIAL SUMMER COURSES START JUNE 21st. Regular Year Courses in Accelerated Program in Fordham College, School of Business and College of Pharmacy Start July 6; Law School, June 14th.

Write to Registrar for Catalogue

A REMEMBRANCE

At Graduation is sure to be appreciated by boys and girls and is often a life time keepsake.

A Fine Selection of Diamonds, Chains, Watches, Lockets, Crosses, Pins and Jewelry, etc. to Choose From

Phone: MAIN 7240

EDWARD BAUMAN

Formerly with Geo. C. Schaefer Co., Schaefer & Hortal and E. S. Ettenheimer Co.

ROOM 14, GROUND FLOOR REYNOLDS ARCADE BLDG.

16 MAIN ST. EAST ROCHESTER, N. Y.

"THE FLAVOR THAT'S IN FAVOR"

Old Topper Ale

FUR STORAGE

Ask About Our Special Offer on Storage

Our New Automatic AIR CONDITIONED FUR STORAGE VAULT

Expert Cleaning — Relining — Repairing

CROSBY-FRISIAN FUR CO.

152 Lake Avenue

Glenwood 206