'Be Radical' Sodality Told By Fr. Rooney At Communion Breakfast

"Go, light the world with Christ," said the Rev. Richard R. Rooney, S.J., noted author and director of Sodality work...

"Whenever an idea takes to itself a body, the result is a revolution," said the speaker...

"To be radical means to go to the roots of things. Worldly radicals since Christ have touched only the surface...

"To be revolutionary is to turn things upside down. Christ revolutionized revolution itself. He turned an upside down world right side up...

"It is time we had another revolution of that sort. Christ asks it of you personally... Holy Communion is not a static thing...

Cites Two Ambitions Father Rooney named the sodalists two main ambitions: to be as Marylike, and hence as Christlike as possible...

"If you are to win the revolution, you are to start with yourself. In your ideals and values. There is a lack of appreciation in Catholic women...

"In giving Christ to others, we Catholics fail badly. Christ, the light of the world would like to shine again in the darkness...
