

Fr. Wuest Named Assistant Diocesan Scout Chaplain

Rev. Raymond Wuest, assistant pastor of St. Andrew's Church, Rochester, has been appointed Associate Scout Chaplain of the Diocese of Rochester by His Excellency, Bishop Keane.

Word has been received from the National Boy Scout Office that they have appointed Father Wuest as District National Field Scout Commissioner.

In his new task, Father Wuest will assume the work of promoting Scouting under Catholic auspices throughout the Diocese, assisting the Rev. Joseph E. Vogt, Diocesan Chaplain.

Scouting under Catholic auspices has increased tremendously throughout the Rochester Diocese. In the past six years the number of Troops has more than doubled. Diocesan Troops are affiliated with the National Catholic Committee on Scouting. This Committee is composed of a representative group of Catholic Bishops throughout the United States, interested in promoting Boy Scouting in Catholic centers.

Father Wuest has had years of experience with Scouting. His knowledge and interest will be a great help in the effort to expand Scouting in the Diocese of Rochester.

Priest In Baccalaureate Holds There Is Hope For Future Of Young Graduates

AUBURN—Rev. Richard T. Torney, assistant pastor at St. Mary's Church, delivered the Baccalaureate address on Sunday at Central High School Auditorium. The Classes of 1943 of West and Central High Schools united for the annual Baccalaureate service.

Father Torney said in part: "No one who accepts the principles of Christianity can be anything except a divinely discontented revolutionary. Christ always taught in terms of advancing the kingdom of God. He taught that that kingdom can be established only when the hideous kingdom of injustice and evil has been overthrown. People who follow Christ, who know they are children of God, are not pale conservatives. They do not struggle to keep things as they are. They must fight for better things and must do this first in themselves."

Father Torney told the story of the parable of the sower who planted on four different types of soil and secured four different harvests.

Continuing he said: "You graduates are the soil in which seeds of education and training have been sown. The seed has been good and the sowers have tried zealously to prepare a field that will bear rich harvests to make us proud. But, as heard in the parable the final success or failure of the harvest must rest in the soil. You are that soil. The future value of all our past efforts depends upon your acceptance and use of the seeds we have tried to sow."

"Today even in your present happiness we will pardon you if you wonder what security you can hope for in the months and years ahead. For the world never was so confused and unsettled. Never have young people stepped out of the routines and quiet conclusions of their school with greater anxiety. But you do have a possession that will bring lasting happiness into your lives."

"You are children of God and heirs of the kingdom of heaven. God is your father, your best friend, your only hope and your final judge. You are His beloved creation and on your Christian souls there is embossed the family crest of God. That doctrine, I feel should be your greatest security, for that relationship with God gives each a heritage and an ideal to which we must ever be true."

Father Torney concluded his address by saying: "Let me tell you of one heavenly virtue that your fathers must display if you are a true child of God. That quality is moral courage. You have heard and read many tales of courage in face of physical danger. The news of the days since and war after another. But how far loftier, how truly saintly is moral courage; the courage to be a continual reflection of Christ's presence within the soul, the courage to be different from the majority and the average, the courage to obey conscience to control injustice, to defy the customs of the age, that are sinful and evil. To practice this form of courage is proof of your loyalty to the family of God. And so I give you this one ideal today for honest, lasting personal happiness—live every moment of your life as a child of God and a future heir of the Kingdom of Heaven."

Blessed are all they that fear the Lord, that walk in His ways. Psalm 127, v. 1.

Open House Set By Air Corps Unit Here

For the first time since the establishment of the unit, the veil of exclusiveness that has sheltered them from civilian eyes will be lifted from the men of the 51st College Training Detachment at Hotel Seneca, Captain C. V. Hardy, the Commanding Officer has announced that an Open House will be held on July 5, 1943 at the Hotel Seneca.

At this time young men of Rochester and the surrounding area are invited to visit the living quarters of the men, the classrooms where the fundamentals of ground school are learned, the drill and athletic fields, and the flight line at the airport where ten hours of flight instruction is given to each student.

"We have been looking forward for a long time to a chance to repay the hospitality of the people in this area by allowing the young men 18 to 26 to give us a real once-over," Captain Hardy said, "and I hope as many of them as possible will be able to take this opportunity to see how our boys, and thousands like them in similar College Training Detachments all over the country, are living and working. I am sure they will all find it very interesting."

The students of the Detachment are especially interested in seeing the men between the ages of 18-25 who themselves might be interested in joining the Air Corps. "We would like to show them what sort of a course the Air Force is giving to all of us. We know it is the best in the service and are looking forward to this opportunity of convincing everyone," said Student Group Captain Perc Ferman.

The Open House will get under way at 10 o'clock at the Hotel Seneca on July 5, and will continue until the completion of the retreat formation, when the day is officially ended.
