

GENERAL NEWS

On Guard!

(Continued from Page 2)

Our soldiers finally drove the Axis out of France and elsewhere they will not be faced with the intellectual and character task of driving possessive forces out of society and industrial life. Let us hope that the ladies will go quietly and graciously.

The shrewd editorialist of the Saturday Evening Post frankly ex-

Sally Lindsey &amp; Co. Inc.

Cool as a Breeze!

ESKA NOHEET
PERMANENT WAVE
$10

From start to finish no heat of any kind is used in the marvelous ESKA process. It's a delightfully cool and comfortable wave, ideal for summer! Imagine beautiful, manageable coils and lasting, close-to-your-scalp waves for even the most difficult hair! Try this heavenly, machineless wave now!

BEAUTY SALON, THIRD FLOOR
Phone State 1280 for Appointment

SEND NO MONEY
Simply send one or two dollars and I will send the statue in colored colors of Christ the Lamb at the age of 4 holding the LUCKY STAR flowers plus the 2 PINE branches, for which I will deposit $1.00 extra upon delivery plus a few cents extra charges. If you need rush service, we will add shipping charges. Every batch arrives within 4 days if rush service required.
THE RELIGIOUS HOUSE, DEPT. 6 LUCY S. MARKET ST. - CHICAGO, ILL.

I write letters in the nearly-dark

This is part of an actual letter from a soldier overseas:

"It's not the big things that you miss out here. It's little things. Like street noises. Or an electric lamp. There ain't no such things. Since I'm on duty all day I write letters in the nearly-dark. Funny how you can enjoy a common, ordinary electric light bulb."

HERE at home folks take electricity for granted because it's right at our finger tip and costs so little. The average American family gets nearly twice as much electricity for its money as it did during the last war.

Soldier, we're sorry we can't send you electricity over there. But we are pouring power into war industries over here so that you can have the planes, ships, tanks and guns that you need. That's our job and our 3,000 men and women workers are going to till their hardest at it until you're back here where there are lights and all the other things you like.

Save Gas and Electricity at Home—They're War Weapons

ROCHESTER GAS and ELECTRIC

CATHOLIC COURIER

July 8, 1943

Consecrated

BISHOP NEIDHAMMER

Seven Of Hierarchy
Attend Consecration
Of Bishop Neidhammer

NEW YORK (N.Y.) — In the presence of seven Bishops, a large number of Monsignors, priests, and Religious and a lay congregation of 2,000, who braved a day of record heat to attend the three-hour ceremony, the Most Rev. Matthew A. Neidhammer, O.F.M. Cap., was consecrated Titular Bishop of Cateo and Vicar Apostolic of Bluefields, Nicaragua, this morning in St. Patrick's Cathedral.

The Most Rev. James M. Walsh, Superior General of Muryknoll, was the consecrator. The Most Rev. John F. O'Hara, C.S.C., Military Delegate, and the Most Rev. Stephen J. Donahue, Auxiliary Bishop of New York, were the co-consecrators.

Franciscans In War

Recalling that since the days of St. Francis, members of the Order he founded have been in the vanguard of missionaries of the Church, the Very Rev. Adelardus Baumgartner, O.F.M. Cap., Vice Delegate Provincial, who preached, said that "our boys on battlefronts, posts and stations all over the world are seeing the familiar habit of the Franciscans in remote and far-away places."

"When the war broke out," he said, "the Order of Friars Minor had priests in 52 places all over the globe and everyone was a volunteer. Some of them have fallen; some are prisoners of war; some continue to labor, hiding in the hills of distant countries and praying for the return of peace."

Father Baumgartner said that all the Capuchins in China only one remains and that eleven are prisoners of war in Japan.

He emphasized that the only purpose of the missionaries in Nicaragua is "to bring the Light in the Name of Jesus Christ, to do His work that they may strengthen, propagate and conserve His faith."

India Bishops Vary On Church's Outlook

(Continued from Page 2)

Admitting that the leaders gratefully accept the educational and charitable efforts of the Christians, yet draw upon their work of conversion, the Bishop sees no reason to fear opposition for the missions from an Indian Government.

In his statement he said:

"It is unlikely that there will be an open antagonism, much less persecution, of Christian missions under an Indian Government. Hinduism always has been a religion of tolerance. There may even be a better prospect of Christianity disengaging itself from the official and political world under an India Government and asserting in a more striking and emphatic manner the spiritual values for which it stands as well as their influence on the lives of men. Christian missions can never alienate the Hindus and the Moslems. There is no room for gloomy forebodings or a pessimistic outlook."

Ghosh, O.M.D.

Archbishop Peter of Calcutta

Ghandi and other big guns of the Congress, missionaries will not be favorably looked upon. Perhaps purely humanitarian works would be tolerated, but no proselytizing. A situation similar to the one existing "in Japan where little, if any, progress is possible" may develop.

Taking a more optimistic view, Bishop Crowley, of Dacca, and Superior of the Holy Cross Fathers from the United States laboring in the Bengal country, declared that "unless all signs conspire to deceive us, the Church among Bengal's fifty-three millions has much to hope for, and very little to fear, from the coming new order in India generally. Bishop Crowley believes that "much of Mr. Ghandi's idealism will be forgotten" and the educated native of Bengal, although he may not appreciate the real purpose of mission activity, will highly value "his educational, medical, and other activities, together with their devotion to the poorer classes."

Certain thoughts are present. They are moments when what