AYERS BRITAIN REJECTS YOUTH GROUPS OF AXIS TYPE

LONDON.—(NC)—"Let us make it clear to all concerned," said the Archbishop of Liverpool, the Most Rev. Richard Downey, in a message sent to a Liverpool Catholic youth gathering, "that we do not want anything modeled on or even remotely approaching the Hitler youth movement or the Benito of Italy."

"A cut-and-dried State-regulated youth movement is not an inspiring ideal to a Christ-loving people. Centuries ago Sparta, in the interests of materialism, tried the experiment and the State of Sparta perished."

Prelate Stricken

Most Rev. Leo Kierlein, Vicar Apostolic of Kroonstad, Orange-Free State, and his first native priest, ordained this year. The missionary prelate is reported to have been stricken with paralysis. The Superior of his community, the Holy Ghost Fathers, is interned, although other members are at liberty. They are not permitted to have contact with the natives, except to administer the Last Sacraments. (N.C.W.C.)

Once Prison Chaplain Tells Of Work With War Prisoners

NEW YORK (NC)—A dramatic picture of the spiritual services provided for prisoners of war by American chaplains is contained in a letter received at the Military Ordinariat. The writer, Chaplain Joseph M. Clark, S.J., now on active duty in North Africa, once served as a chaplain at the Federal Penitentiary at Alcatraz Island, Calif. A priest of the California Province of the Society of Jesus, Father Clark is a graduate of Gonzaga University, Spokane, and Weston College, Weston, Mass.

His letter follows: "The prisoners have been very interesting from a religious standpoint. Every single one of the Italians, of course, was Catholic, and to my delight very practical Catholics. As soon as they understood that I was a Catholic chaplain the first thing they asked me was about confessions and Communion, so the very first Sunday they all received Holy Communion along with one-quarter of the Germans, that is, all the German Catholics, who seem to be quite good Catholics, and quite open in the profession of their Faith. I spent nearly a whole day hearing the confessions of the prisoners.

"How! Well, before I left the States I figured I might run into conditions where I would have the need of hearing confessions in many different languages, so I borrowed a book from Father Stern at the San Francisco Hospital, for hearing confessions in 16 different languages. The other day I used it for Italian, German and a Croatian. It would be a little quicker if I had the gift of tongues, but that is one faculty we weren't given as chaplains.

"The prisoners couldn't leave the barbed-wire inclosure to go to Mass so I said Mass for them in their own area. Most of them can walk around so I said the Mass in the open. It made quite a picture with the altar surrounded by wire and on the other side of the wire a half dozen soldiers with tommy-guns. Shades of Alcatraz again, saying Mass with a tommy-gun in the background.

"It is easy to tell the Catholics among our prisoners of war, for everyone of them has the rosary I gave them around his neck. I was struck too by the fact that everyone of the Italians had a half dozen or more holy cards and little prayer-leaflets in their wallets—more holy cards than pictures of their dear ones. All of them had a holy card—the Madonna of the Soldier—a picture of the Blessed Virgin and on the other side his mother or wife with the rosary in her hand.

"I showed them our holy card, 'The Divine Protector,' in which Our Lord is standing behind a soldier and taller protecting them and the American Flag in the background. They wanted one to put in their wallet with their Madonna, so I gave them each one. They all seem very happy, even if they are prisoners and perhaps because they are prisoners."

WE LEND OUR MONEY — THEY GIVE THEIR LIVES.
