Sister de Chantal New Superior at Horse Creek Valley Welfare Center

LANGLEY, S. C.—Sister Mary de Chantal has arrived from Maryland, Motherhouse of the Sisters of Our Lady of Christian Doctrine, Nyack, N. Y., to succeed Sister Mary Stanislas as superior of the community of the Order which conducts the Horse Creek Valley Handicraft and Welfare Center on U. S. Highway No. 1 between Aiken and Augusta.

Sister Stanislas, with Sister Mary Patricia and Sister Mary Catherine, who have been stationed at the welfare center, have returned to Maryland.

Continuing to serve with Sister de Chantal at the center are Sister Raphael, Sister Anne Marie and Sister Bernadette.

While the Sisters are not conducting kindergarten classes at the center and at Our Lady of Peace Church in North Augusta during the summer months, there is much activity at the center.

The swimming pool, which has been recently improved, and repaired is popular with the young people of the neighborhood during the summer season. Motion pictures are shown at the center on Friday and Saturday nights and entertainment is provided for the teen-age group on Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

Vacation Bible classes are being conducted at the center by Maryknoll seminarians, and the Sisters continue to give religious instructions and carry on their social service work during the summer months. Sister Bernadette also serves as organist at Our Lady of the Valley Church which adjoins the welfare center.

Sister de Chantal, the new superior, was stationed at Ave Marie House, in the Bronx, New York before coming to South Carolina.

The Sisters of Our Lady of Christian Doctrine were founded in New York in 1910 for the work of religious instruction and social service. The members of the Order maintain two social settlements; a nursery school, three catechetical schools, eighteen parish centers for the religious instruction of public-school pupils; a center for religious and social service work among the Chinese in New York City; an evening school of English and citizenship for foreigners; home visitation in five parishes; a music school; two art schools; a playground; a military training corps; a ballet school; a day camp; a camp for girls, and a retreat house for women.

In addition to the Motherhouse at Nyack and the welfare center in Horse Creek Valley, the Order operates Madonna House and Ave Marie House in New York City, and social service centers in Elkton and New Smyrna Beach, Florida.

CARDINAL PIAZZA VISITS AMERICAS

His Eminence Adeodato Giovanni Cardinal Piazza, Secretary of the Sacred Consistorial Congregation, is greeted by His Eminence Francis Cardinal Spellman, Archbishop of New York, upon his arrival in the United States by plane from England. He also expects to visit in Canada and Mexico, homes of the Carmelite Order, of which he is a member. (New American, World Affairs photo) (NC Photos)
