Existence Of Mexico Tied To Catholic Faith

MEXICO CITY (NCI) — "The existence of Mexico is bound to the Catholic Faith" was the theme of the assembly of the Catholic Association of Mexican Youth here on Saturday evening. The Most Rev. Luis M. Martinez, Archbishop of Mexico, in addressing the meeting said: "The Church numbers among Catholic youth the best, the most openly and most decided patriots in this hour of war, whether they be in the shops, the schools, the fields or in the ranks of the conscription."

One point that was emphasized in discussion of the general theme was that the Catholic youth of Mexico is neither cowardly nor inert, and it is ready and willing to collaborate whenever and wherever it is called. "A young conscript," it was pointed out, "wherever he goes will find the outstretched hand of brotherhood among the Catholic youth, and not the menacingly clenched fist."

A CHAPLAIN DOES HIS WASH

The Rev. Leo LaSage of Ottawa, a priest-chaplain with the Canadian forces now in Sicily, found during his stay in North Africa that he could utilize the hot tropical sun to save time. Father LaSage discovered that it took only a short while (four minutes for pajamas) for washing to dry in the African sun. So, he worked out a timetable for himself. He would wash his clothes and then shave, and his laundry was dry when he finished shaving. That's a shaving mirror atop the post. Canadian Army Photo. (N.C.W.C.)
