

Catholicism Restored Century Ago in Norway

VATICAN CITY, (NC) — The centenary of the restoration of Catholicism in Norway finds the Catholic population a much smaller minority—about 1,000 out of a population of 1,000,000. Also there is a decided change in attitude towards the Church. This change in attitude has been rather indicated by recent statistics which have revealed a new atmosphere of national solidarity in the ecclesiastical country. On the occasion of the centenary, the Most Rev. James McQuinn, B.M. Vice Apostolic of Oslo, issued a pastoral in which he reviewed the history of the Church in Norway.

There are a lot more things you don't get that you don't see. There are a lot more things you don't get that you don't see.

3 Auxiliary Chaplains, Editor Named By Bishop

The Most Rev. Bishop Kearney has appointed the Rev. Patrick J. Flynn, associate editor of the CATHOLIC COURIER and Auxiliary Chaplain to churches of the diocese, as well as vice editor of the CATHOLIC COURIER, as one of the three Auxiliary Chaplains to be named by the Bishop.

The Rev. Raymond White, principal of De Sales High School, Denver, is also appointed Auxiliary Chaplain for the V-12 school at DeSales College, Denver.

The Rev. Joseph M. McQuinn, Catholic Chaplain at Cornell U. is also named Auxiliary Chaplain at Cornell University where are stationed 1,000 members of the Navy and Army Forces.

Father Flynn was an assistant pastor at Holy Trinity Church, will be Auxiliary Chaplain to the V-12 Navy and Marine Institute of the University of Rochester at whom he is a Catholic and the the Rev. Charles of Saint Steven. He is succeeding the Rev. Arthur J. Collins, former pastor and Chaplain of the University of Rochester. Catholic Churches whose titles in that order accompanied the giving of the work in Chaplain.

Convert Uses Shop Windows To Tell Of Catholicism

CHICAGO (NC)—Through store window displays and similar attractions, Carl Conrad, advertising official and chain-store executive, has been acquainting countless hundreds of persons with the truths of the Catholic faith.

Displaying the window display project, which met with success in Cincinnati and Louisville, Mr. Conrad secured a shop window in a busy section of the Rogers Park section here. With the cooperation of the Rev. F. G. Dunne, N.Y. pastor of St. Ignace Church, he decorated the window with a series of attractive posters, which attracted the attention of crowds from a nearby well-patronized movie theater. Hundreds of pamphlets explaining the Catholic doctrine were distributed.

Mr. Conrad, who is a convert and who gives his own time and money in the undertaking, explained that the window display idea "took immediately and I have been kept busy replacing the pamphlets." He added that it proves people have open minds and many of them want to get authentic information about the Church.

Another center is operating in the Catholic Youth Organization library at the south end of Chicago's Loop, where a school on parent topics attracts thousands of persons of all ages and grades.

"I am amazed at the growth which the idea has had in Chicago," Mr. Conrad said. "I feel that Heaven has blessed my work because my wife and my two boys have been baptized in recent years."

King George Deceases Day of Prayer

LONDON. — By the decree of King George VI, August 19 will be observed as a national day of prayer to mark the fourth anniversary of the outbreak of the war.

Church services will be held and, wherever possible, the fighting services will be allowed to listen in special broadcasts. Catholic services, with an address, will be broadcast in the afternoon.

Short Story Writer, Convert, Dies At 80

LONDON. (NC)—Catholic short story writer of a joint generation, Paul Owen (magnum opus) pen-name of Amy Wilson, has died in France at the age of 80. It has just become known here, Miss Wilson, a convert, retired to a French convent several years ago, and died there. She also wrote lives of well-known saints, besides poetry and was a water-color artist of distinction.
