Plan Film On Reporter's Devotion To St. Dismas

LOS ANGELES.—"The Heathen Saint," based on the life story of the late Dempster MacMurphy, Chicago newspaper reporter whose special devotion was to St. Dismas, the good thief to whom the Saviour on the Cross promised paradise, will be the title of a film to be produced by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Story writers for the studio who have just returned from Chicago after a study of MacMurphy's life and charitable activities indicate they have found a wealth of material on which to base a modern American screen play.

ST. LOUIS.—The Rev. Edward Dowling, S.J., an assistant national Sodality director, has been invited by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer to go to Hollywood as an adviser on a feature picture to be built around the life of the late Dempster MacMurphy, known as the modern apostle of devotion of St. Dismas, the Good Thief. Father Dowling was a close friend of Mr. MacMurphy, who was business manager of the Chicago Daily News at the time of his death.
