

Sacred Heart Students Mark First Friday

By MARY KAY KEFF

Friday, Nov. 6, the first Friday, was celebrated as usual as a day of special honor of the Sacred Heart. At 8:30 A. M. the student body assembled in the Chapel for a statue Mass and general Communion. After breakfast, classes went on as usual until noon.

Luncheon was followed by dancing and games in the recreation room, and at 1 P. M. a spirited meeting of the "Christopher Catholic Action Group" took place, presided over by Chairman John Glenn. Reports were made by the heads of the various units: Missions, Red Cross, Liturgical (Choir) and Art. The guest speaker was Miss Anna Gray of the Gibson and Duke Settlement Houses who spoke of the need of voluntary workers in these settlement houses and encouraged the girls to offer their services.

After the Catholic Action Meeting, the Guard of Honor carrying the banner of the Sacred Heart led the school in procession to the Chapel. There a sermon was preached by the chaplain, the Rev. Dr. James C. McAniff, and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament closed the day.

INDIAN GIRLS ON THE WARPATH

Play To Feature 'Mission Day' At Mercy High School

Our Lady of Mercy High School will throw open its doors to mission-minded Rochesterians, on Friday, Nov. 19, when the school's annual Mission Day, will be held.

Chairman for the day will be Jeanne Schneider with Elaine Bopp as co-chairman. Heads of the different booths will be entrusted to the chairmen of the various Sodality committees as was the custom in former years.

Directing the Eucharistic Committee's cake booth will be Aileen Schlotter while Mary Elizabeth Gault has supervision over the candy booth of Our Lady's committee.

The Freshmen as usual, will run the fancy goods booth with Kathleen Zimmer, in charge. Gloria Bosalts will have charge of the Press Committee's grab bag booth while Marge Byrne will take over the novelty booth.

As has been the custom for the past two years, the Catholic Literature Committee will put on a two-act play entitled "Ruthless" which is scheduled for both an afternoon and evening performance on Mission Day.

The cast is as follows: Ann Vogt, Connie Curran, Elaine Bopp, Eileen Quinn, Margaret Grass, Mary Heim and Marilyn Winfield. In charge of the production of the play are Therese Knapp, Ruth Kennedy and Noreen Carey.

The refreshments for the day will be under the supervision of the Sodality officers.

Declaration On Peace Studied At Central Verein Meet In Troy

Discussion of the peace program advanced by the Catholic Central Verein of America featured a successful regional meeting of the State Branch held jointly with the National Catholic Women's Union, State Branch, in Troy, last Sunday.

The joint session was held in St. Lawrence School Hall beginning at 2:00 p. m. Following the opening prayer by Rev. F. J. Buechler, Spiritual Advisor of the Men's Branch, Frank E. Popp, chairman of the local committee, welcomed those in attendance and turned the meeting over to Richard F. Hemmerlein, president of the State Branch, C.C.V.

Short expressions of greeting were made by Miss Laura K. Schilling of Rochester, President of the State Branch, N.C.W.U., and by Mrs. Mary Filler Lohr, president of the National Catholic Women's Union.

Judge Philip M. Donnelly of Rochester discussed the Declaration on Peace and Reconstruction adopted by the 1941 state and national conventions of the Catholic Central Verein. He briefly outlined the text of the declaration and then urged his audience to make the words of the declaration their own, so that they might be in a position to help form a sound public opinion on the principles which must underlie a peace that will endure.

A brief talk on parish credit unions by Joseph H. Gervais of Rochester evoked a lively question and answer period. As a result it is believed that credit unions may be started in several parishes in the eastern part of the state.

Father Buechler led a discussion on what can be done to interest youth in studying the social questions of the day. Several good suggestions were advanced.

The men's branch met in separate session to hear a talk by Albert J. Sattler of New York on the Central Verein's plan for revivifying the benevolent societies by having their death benefits reinsured with a legal reserve company.

The women's branch at the same time was addressed on the subject of modesty in dress.

At 4:45 p. m. those in attendance marched to St. Lawrence's Church, where a Eucharistic service was conducted by Father Buechler.

Sampson Rites On Air Sunday

AUBURN—The Catholic program "Sampson goes to Church" will be broadcast over WBYR at Syracuse on next Sunday commencing at 10 A. M. The program broadcast will consist of the celebration of Mass and a sermon by the chaplain and the singing of hymns by the Holy Family choir. The program is dedicated to the parish wives throughout and will be one of the many on hand on each day in the air.
