Aquinas Gridders To Dance

To celebrate the grand finale of the football season for the Aquinas gridders, the Young Ladies' Sodality of Sacred Heart Pro-Cathedral will sponsor a dance in their honor, Friday evening, Nov. 26, in the school hall. Miss Rosemarie O'Brien has been chosen chairman for the affair.

The ever-popular Freddie Grossman Orchestra will be on hand to give a rousing welcome to the successful players and their friends. Dancing will be held from 8 to 12 and price of admission will be 40 cents.

Miss O'Brien has chosen the following to assist her as committees: Miss Mary Holden, arrangements; Miss Patricia Tracy, decorations; Miss Mary Cullenayn, checking, and Miss Terry Dieter, printers.

In addition to the football players, all servicemen will be admitted free.

Class Heads Named At Nazareth Hall

The boys of the Eighth grade of Nazareth Hall held their election on Wednesday, Nov. 17.

The following officers were chosen: President, Lawrence Cleary; Vice-Pres., Harry Jane; Secretary, Gerard Guelinet; Treasurer, James Ryan.

They will assume their respective duties immediately.

Let's not be over-confident. Success does not mean victory is complete. Continue your prayers.

Patroness Honored By Rites At Sacred Heart Academy

By Mary Kay Klee

Feast of the Blessed Philippine Duchesne, the religious who brought the Society of the Sacred Heart to North American in 1818, was celebrated by students of the Academy of the Sacred Heart on Wednesday, Nov. 17.

The Blessed Sacrament was exposed until 3 P. M. when Benediction was given and was followed by the singing of the hymn in honor of Blessed Philippine. The fruits of the labor and suffering of this saintly religious are seen in the many houses of the Sacred Heart established in the United States and Canada. There are now six colleges, thirty-two academies, several parochial schools for white children, and one parochial school for colored children in Louisiana. There are also numerous sodalities and centers of Catholic Action.

Vicariate Contest

The first Vicariate essay contest between the twelve academies of the Sacred Heart in this vicinity began on Friday, Nov. 19. The two best essays of each high school class will be sent to the House of Studies in Albany and will there compete with the best essays of the other eleven schools. The essay subjects were:

Fourth Academic Class — "Do Movies Spoil Books."

Second Academic Class—"Friendly and Unfriendly Books."

Second Academic Class — "Airplanes for the Mind."

First Academic Class "My Window Is a Picture Frame."

It is hoped that Prince Street will again win the trophy as it did in 1941. Everyone is working for this end.

Annual Retreat

The annual retreat for the students took place on Nov. 22, 23, 24. This enabled the students to participate in the Eucharistic Triduum in preparation for the Diamond Jubilee of the Diocese. The retreat was given by the Rev. Peter Daly, S.J., from New York.

Hymn To Sacred Heart

ST. MARY-OF-THE-WOODS, Ind.—A new hymn to the Sacred Heart, especially adapted for use in connection with the Enthronement of the Sacred Heart and addressed to the honor of Jesus Christ, King, has been written by Sister Rose Angela, principal of St. Rose Academy, Vincennes, Ind. The music was composed by Sister Maurilia, professor of music at the academy.

A hero is the kind of a man who, when you ask him how he is, tells you.—Channing Pollock.

Alumnae Plans Christmas Party

AUBURN—The Auburn Chapter of Nazareth College Alumnae will hold a Christmas Party and Miss Mary Geherin and Mrs. William Watts will be the hostesses. The Alumnae recently met at the Cayuga Museum and following the dinner served by Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Steiglitz, custodians of the Museum, Prof. Walter K. Long, director, gave a talk on what has been done in the line of art at the new Nazareth College at Pittsford. He also explained some interesting features of the current Hardenbergh's Corners exhibit at the Museum.

Keep your heart free and lifted up to God, "for we have not here a lasting city."
