Appreciation

All this talk about an editor not being appreciated, it seems to me, is nonsense. An exchange tells how an editor of an neighboring town was presented with a handsome bouquet by a bunch of fellow-citizens. On the same occasion a quartet from a local church sang a few songs and a minister made a little talk. After the minister's talk, six husky men carried the popular editor from the house and placed him in a model 1934 planned sedan and the whole town formed a parade. The appreciative crowd returned to their homes, across in the thought of having provided one bright day in the life of their local newspaper, even if they had to wait until he was dead to do it.
