Canada Youth Laud Catholic Action of Mexican Friends

OTTAWA, (CIP) — The study group of about 125 Canadians, mostly French-Canadians, which spent the summer in Mexico under the auspices of the University of Mexico and the Mexican government, has shared some of its enthusiasm with the listeners of the French Canadian radio network.

Several participants told their impressions in the first of a series of programs dealing with Mexico. A priest representing St. Stanislaus College in Montreal, praised the activities of young Mexicans, both men and women, in Catholic Action, and said that Canadian Catholic Action could learn from their example. All speakers emphasized the cordial reception the Canadians had received from the Mexican people.

Salute to Mothers

We salute you, mother, preserver of the home. You have the biggest share in victory, your own children. When the heart grows sad, think of another mother who gave a Son. That mother was the Queen of Heaven and also a cook in a kitchen on a little street in Nazareth. — Catholic Home Journal.

Organ's Origin

The ecclesiastical or church use of the organ dates back to the twelfth century. Before that time this or any other musical instrument was looked upon as worldly and therefore out of place.
