UNRRA Out of Greece

London — Herbert H. Lehman, UNRRA Director — "I deeply regret that the tragic situation in Greece has now compelled temporary evacuation of a substantial part of the UNRRA Mission."

Don't let that wounded doughboy be an ideal battlefield or in that hospital without enough blood to keep him alive. Give your blood for the Red Cross so he can stay alive.

Sailor Brings 186 Men into Church

ST. LOUIS, MO.—The zeal of a former sailor in effecting the conversion of 186 Navy men is related in a recent issue of C.M.O.A. (Convert Masters of America), one of the publications of The Queen's Work here.

"Bob Anderson of San Francisco," the article relates, "was in the Navy three years before his discharge. While there, he instructed and brought to the chaplain for baptism 186 men. He is a convert himself which partly explains his zeal. One time he was ordered by an officious non-Catholic chaplain to stop his proselytizing. Bob promptly wrote to Archbishop

Spillman, got a swift letter back congratulating him and telling him to keep up the good work. The next time the heavy non-Catholic chief chaplain called him all he had to do was show him Archbishop Spillman's letter.

Q—What benefits do you gain from the last rites of the Church?
A—By the last rites of the Church we mean the reception of the Sacraments in preparation for death. By the Sacrament of Penance our sins are forgiven; through Extreme Unction the remains of sin are cleared away and we are given the grace to die reconciled to God's holy will, and in Viaticum we receive our Lord to accompany us on our last great journey to eternity.
