List N. Y. Youth Leader at Aquinas Drive Opening

A dinner in the Chamber of Commerce Monday evening will send some 300 campaigners of a 10-day quest for $100,000 to build an Aquinas Memorial chapel here as the campus of the Henry Lomb Aquinas School.

Bishop James E. Kearney, honorary campaign chairman, said Jack Laville, director of New York City's C.Y.O. and chief sport and assistant coach of the New York Giants pro football team, are scheduled as the chief speakers.

A former Notre Dame football player, Laville is widely known in national sports circles and comes here following an appearance as "feature" speaker at the annual banquet of the New York Baseball Writers' Association.

John D. Hayes, who with Elmer E. Fairchild is serving as general co-chairman of the campaign, will act as toastmaster. In addition to Messrs. Hayes and Fairchild, those at the speakers' table will include Raymond F. Lozier, general chairman of the special committee; Raymond F. Hanly, general chairman of the alumni division and Rev. Hugh Halley, C.S.B., vice principal of Aquinas.

A basketball maroonal featuring the Aquinas quintet and three public high school teams will be played at the University of Rochester Palestra on the River Campus next Friday, February 9, with all proceeds going to the campaign fund.

The carnival has been made possible by the initiative of the public high school principals. Monroe will meet West High in a regular league game and Jefferson will provide the opposition in the other encounter.

The City of Rochester originally offered Aquinas use of the Edgerton Park Sports Arena but the fuel shortage caused a withdrawal of this order with the closing of the arena. At that point, J. Edward Hedbeimer, Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Rochester offered the Palestra which was promptly accepted by the Rev. William Duggan, C.S.B., principal at Aquinas.

MICHAEL T. RYAN HONORED BY KNIGHTS OF EQUITY

The "great influence" he has exerted in the community for the common good and the successful national campaign he instituted to gain public respect for symbols of St. Patrick were extolled at a testimonial given Michael J. Ryan, charter member of the Knights of Equity, Wednesday night.

Attended by a large crowd of fellow knights, ladies, county and city officials and friends, the dinner was held in Corpus Christi Hall. John H. Keenan, commissioner of the board of education was principal speaker and presented the knights' gift to the guest of honor.

The sterling Catholicity of Mr. Ryan was emphasized by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. William M. Kerr, V. G. and the Rev. Ray Harding, national chaplain Knights of Equity.

For competition with the guest of honor, Christopher Dolaney was also honored by the knights. Robert P. Kiernan was general chairman and Norman A. O'Brien, former state senator, presided as toastmaster. Sir Knight Martin Schiff expressed the Court's appreciation to "Mike" Ryan.

Irish songs were sung by Charles Jr. Sullivan and Frank Dineen, with Lyn Gilmore as accompanist.
