If condemnation was rendered in previous sin would it condemn the mind in regard to our S.M.T.

While it is a grievous sin to receive Communion unworthily it does not necessarily mean that one has lost the faith. The fact that they realize that it is a sin indicates that they have the faith although it may not be so active as is desirable. If such a one will make a good confession the sin will be forgiven and the supernatural effects of the Sacrament of Communion will be conferred on the soul.

Postal Notes Now on Sale

Postmaster Donald A. Dalby announces that on Feb. 1 a new service will be offered in the purchase of Postal Notes which will be on sale at all first class post offices on and after that date.

Postal Notes will be sold for amounts from one cent to ten dollars and the fee for each Note will be five cents. No application will be required - the purchaser will merely write in the name and address of the payee and sign his own name. The Notes may be drawn on any post office in Continental United States, even though not all post offices will issue them at present. Banks will cash them the same as post office money orders.

Another new feature is that Postal Note Stamps will be issued February 1st to make up any odd amounts desired by the purchasers. The Notes will be issued in even dollars and the cents will be indicated by the Postal Note Stamps affixed to the Notes. These stamps will be canceled by the clerks who sell the Postal Notes. No other stamps will be valid for this purpose. Should a patron desire to send $7.25 (seven dollars and eighty-five cents), he will be handed a Postal Note for $7.00, attached to which will be an odd amount stamp for 25c. The total cost will be $7.25, plus the fee of 5c, making a total of $7.50.
