ELMIRA CATHOLIC HIGH

By MARIAN BRILEY
The Bishop's Oratorical Contest
The Bishop's Oratorical Elimination Contest was held in the presence of the student body at a general assembly on Monday morning, March 12.

Two seniors are to be the representatives of Elmira Catholic High in the semi-finals scheduled to take place at the Dunn Memorial Building on April 27, according to the decision of the judges, Mr. Basil Vaillescourt and two faculty members, Richard Grues was selected to represent the boys. His topic is "Disarmament". Theresa Gordon will represent the girls with her topic "Social Justice". These students will now compete in the semi-finals against Holy Family High of Auburn and De-

Wales High of Geneva. Other contestants who tried out in this elimination contest were:

Joan Cunningham, "Christianity and International World Order"; Kathleen O'Hara, "The Pope and the Peace Plan"; John Henry "Protection of Minorities"; John Foley, "Liberty and Security for All Nations."

All students were highly commended by the Rev. William A. Hurra, Principal, both for their well-developed and timely topics, as well as for their oratorical ability.

All essays will be entered in a contest sponsored by the Catholic Daughters of America.

Basketball

St. Casimir's School
In closely-contested games played on the St. Casimir's court last Saturday, the Marines eked out a 10-16 decision over the Air Corps, while the Navy outlasted the Army, 10-8. As a result, the Air Corps and the Navy again went into a deadlock for first place in the St. Casimir's School Basketball League as the regular schedule moves into its last week of play.

The second round championship will be decided next Saturday with the two leaders opposing each other. A win for the Air Corps will present them both with the round championship and league crown, as this team has already taken the first round title. A win for the Navy, however, will leave the Air Corps to meet the Navy in a three-game play-off for the league championship.

Table with columns for team names and scores.
