Mother of 16, with 7 In Service, Honored

Whitney, Neb. (NC) — The outstanding mother of Nebraska for 1945 is the title awarded to Mrs. Mary E. McGuire, member of St. Rose's parish, here and mother of 16.

The honor is given to Mrs. McGuire because she was so fully occupied in rearing such a fine family in her earlier years. Mrs. McGuire has seven sons in the U. S. Armed Forces. Another son recently received an honorable discharge.

It is the long and arduous task of raising children to live more in peace and with God than in war and with ourselves.

Boycott the Boys—If They Prefer Your Parties to You

By MERILA JOHN DALY

A GOOD MAN these days is hard to find, and fellows know it. A smart boy knows that come next Friday night, he can have a date with the smooth blonde who sits next to him in his girl he hasn't called for four weeks or any of six other girls. He's waiting. The trouble is a power shortage has hit the dating field and the odds are for him. Girls are more attentive to him because he happens to be one of the few fellows still around. He's a big deal something special, a fine hunk of heartbreak who can give a different girl each week, or if he doesn't choose to call for a date till the last minute, well, if they don't like it, there are a lot more girls where those come from.

them get curious about what you are doing on these nights you used to give parties and as soon as they begin to think you had to get a date, listen to those telephons ring. And if that method doesn't work, you will still have your party and nothing to

The whole social system has been upset. Girls are friendly, and under the rules of etiquette that's as far as they can go. It is still up to a fellow to ask for the date.

Here's a typical letter from a girl, speaking for a group of 10 who are a bit baffled by the boys' new hard-to-get routine: "I am a sophomore in a girls' school, and there is little opportunity to meet fellows there. I go around in a crowd of 10 girls, and most of us have the same problem — no dates. If one of us gives a party, we ask the same group of fellows, and they come."

These boys never ask us out in return for our invitations. We don't like to keep inviting them, as it makes us feel that we are chasing them. But if we don't invite them we don't have a good time, because there are no fellows there.

Perhaps the Jews in question are shy and haven't yet worked up the necessary courage to ask girls out individually, even though they feel safe and have fun when they are all together at a home party. Fellows feel secure in a group and are often leary about a solo flight.

They may really like to be with your group as long as there are enough girls to go around, but they don't have to go around with any one girl. If you are sure that's the case, include them in your fun. When the shyness wears off they'll probably offer exchange invitations.

But if the boys do go out with girls, if they like you just for your parties and the refreshments you serve, it's time to do something about it. All boys know the courtesy of exchanging a date for a date. Drop the boys.

Have slight parties, all-girl evenings bowling, at the movies, at home — boycott the boys. Give them the idea that you're having fun without them. Let
