St. Anne's Men To Hear F. B. I. Agent

Over 100 persons are expected to attend a Communion breakfast served in St. Anne's hall for the parish Holy Name Society on Sunday, Nov. 11 following the 8 o'clock Mass.

J. F. Buckley, special agent for the Federal Bureau of Investigation, will address the group on "The F. B. I. Work During War Time." "On Guard," a sound moving picture from the files of the F. B. I. will be shown.

President Henry H. Jensen will preside.

Dr. Benedict V. Favata, prominent Neuro Surgeon of the Strong Memorial Hospital, discussed the question of "Science and Religion" at a meeting of the Holy Name Society Wednesday. Before the business meeting Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament was conducted in the church by the Rev. George J. Schmitt, pastor.

At the first meeting of the group, new officers of St. Anne's Holy Name Society were installed by Father Schmitt. Charles Mandia, retiring president, was lauded for his part in the success of parish projects such as the sponsoring of the Boy Scout Troop, the activity of the Nocturnal Adoration Society membership, the annual Retreat and the publishing of the parish bulletin.

K. of C. Memorial Rite Scheduled for Nov. 15

In memory of Knights of Columbus of Rochester Council who died during the past year, a special commemorative ceremony will be held in the Club Rooms, Columbus Civic Center on Thursday evening, Nov. 15.

The service in charge of Chancellor Francis J. Thomas will precede the council meeting. Grand Knight Francis W. Tomney will preside.

Announcement will be made of the knights' participation in the annual Armistice Day Mass at the American Legion at Old St. Mary's Church on Monday. The Knights of Columbus Council will be the service of Grand Knight Tomney as Legion chairman.

A Thanksgiving party in charge of Chancellor of the Council will be held at the Club Rooms on Thursday, Nov. 15.

The Fremin Mission Unit which annually sponsors a field day assures its patrons that this year it literally will be a "circus." The "midway" with its wenders will feature side shows, a fortune teller, variety booths and refreshment stands with hot dogs, ice cream, candy and other circus delicacies. Special music will add to the carnival atmosphere.

Specially trained tumblers and clowns will be featured when the main show is given under the "big top" at 1:30 and again at 4:30 p. m. This main attraction will include students in various acrobatic and comedy acts. Everyone present will be invited to participate in group recreation and games conducted by a trained leader.

Weather permitting, the annual baseball game between students and members of the clergy will be held around 3 o'clock.

The public is cordially invited to attend this "unusual field day." Pat Marks and Marie Antonacci are co-chairmen for the event, while Martha C. Morgan head of the physical education department, is directing and training the special entertainers.
