ciety at a meeting held at the home of Mrs. Irving Sprong. Others elected with Mrs. Hoadley are: Mrs. Adrian Faro, vice president; Mrs. John Doyle, secretary-treasurer and Mrs. Gerald Wood, correspondent.

Bond Drives Report St. Anne's Over Quota; St. Andrew's $35,366

In the Victory Loan campaign as carried out in three Rochester parishes, St. Anne's Parish School drive went over the top with a total of $27,060 reported at the closing dinner, Tuesday night; St. Andrew's parishioners in their campaign turned in $35,366 for the new convent. Our Lady of Good Counsel campaigners launched the campaign for $100,000 for their new church, on Wednesday.

Enthusiastically received was the report of $35,366 as the amount raised in the Victory Loan campaign for St. Andrew's new convent at the final meeting of the workers on Tuesday night.

Appreciation of the work done and of amounts contributed was voiced by the Rev. George W. Eckl, pastor who said it is hoped to get materials to build the new convent in the spring of 1947 but if materials are available the convent building will be erected earlier.

The progress of St. Andrew's parish, Rochester, which has made necessary a new convent building and has resulted in the development of the entire parish plant was reviewed by the Rev. Arthur F. Florack, pastor of St. Michael's Church and former assistant pastor of St. Andrew's Church.

Congratulations were extended also by the Rev. George Weimann, pastor of St. Philip Neri Church and St. Andrew's assistant pastor, the Rev. Albert H. Schnacky and the Rev. John W. Laveque.

Royal Mutter, general chairman and all the workers were commended by the pastor for their enthusiasm and zeal in providing funds for the Sisters of Mercy's new convent.

Chairman of the speakers committee, Fred Erith presided at the dinner.

With an approximate $1,900 still to come in and be added the $27,060 reported at St. Anne's Parish Campaign for a new school, the 180 workers were jubilant over their success at the final report meeting Tuesday evening in the Brighton Park, Rochester, parish hall.

The Rev. George J. Schmitt, pastor, expressed his deep gratitude to the workers and contributors who had helped, he said, to assure St. Anne's of a fitting school building.

As the reports were being made to Father Schmitt, Mrs.

Good Counsel Drive Opens With $12,250

Given the encouragement and approval of His Excellency, Bishop Kearney, the campaign for $100,000 in Victory Bonds for the new Our Lady of Good Counsel Church was launched Wednesday night with $12,250 reported at the first meeting.

At an enthusiastic meeting of 175 men and women workers, the Rev. Charles V. Boyle, treasurer of the campaign, read greetings from the Bishop who sent his blessing to each worker and contributor.

William T. Nolan, campaign manager, asked each worker to sell a $100 Victory Bond to each parishioner contacted. He pointed out that with 1,500 adults and 400 children in a church that seats 500 the need for a new church is evident. The present frame structure was built to serve six years and has been serving for 16 years despite parish growth.

The Rev. Clarence W. Gardner, associate honorary chairman, also spoke at the opening meeting in the Good Counsel Auditorium.

Honorary chairman of the campaign is the Rev. Edward T. Magahan, pastor, and founder of the parish. Mrs. Theodore F. Florack is general chairman with M. Alvah Halloran, general co-chairman.

Contributions announced at the opening meeting were: $10,

Heading the committee in charge are Mrs. H. L. Reiss and Mrs. James Fleming assisted by Mrs. Ronald MacAdams, Mrs. C. J. Spoldei, and Mrs. Albusius Lenhard.

600 from anonymous friends; $1,650 from a group of parish young people; $100 boys each from Father Boyle and Father Gardner; Chaplains William F. Nolan and Gerald Kelly, former assistant pastors, now overseas; Stuart Dolan and Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Myers in memory of their son, Sgt. Joseph Myers, first parishioner to give his life in World War II.

Report dinners are scheduled for Monday, Dec. 3; Thursday, Dec. 6 and Monday, Dec. 10. The drive will end Dec. 15.

Leo Zeller, president of St. Anne's Rosary Society presented a $500 Victory Bond in behalf of the society.

Congratulated for their work were Victor G. Yawman and his special committee. The energetic general chairman, Police Officer Henry H. Jensen in response to commendation thanked each one who had cooperated in the success of the campaign.

Jack Moran of the Todd Company was in charge of stunts which provided amusement for successful captains and division chairmen and for members of St. Anne's Rosary Society who were special guests. Prizes were awarded to all high team workers for attaining their quotas or topping them.

Among interesting sidelights of the campaign Father Schmitt told of a returning veteran who gave $25 to the drive in thanksgiving for his safe return.
