THE MUSICAL LIKE BEST By Marinera Midmond

China is the mission I like best. I like it because I admire the missionary priests and sisters who leave their homes in America and go over to teach the poor Chinese. They built schools arsi churches for the people, so they rould learn about God.

When the Japanese came over they destroyed these schools and churches, which the missionaries built. The Japanese destroyed everybody and everything in their path. The missionaries helped the people all they could. All they themselves had left was their faith which was most important.

A lot of Chinese men and women have become priests and sisters to help the missionaries. The missionaries are again building up the schools and churches. They are converting more neople are helping to build houses and raise crops for the Chinese.

Soldiers, too, were grateful to the missionaries, for giving them food and caring for the wounded during the war. The missionaries will surely be rewarded for their good works in heaven. I hope many will answer the Massionaries.

Teen-Agers Must Practice. To Become 'Neat-Eaters'

By Shells John Daty high school on a busy schedule and work your way in.

Shells John Daly ploma in hand, not as smooth that way, as they might have been. They probably have all the potentialities required to make a big time rough corners to be smoothed off before these guys and gain can rate that all-important adjective "smooth." Let's give the rough edges a quick onceover to see what can be done about smoothing them off.

You'd probably be insulted if than ever, after this war. They any one caught you up concerning your table manners - you who have been at this business of getting three meals a day embroidered bib.

Many Sellows have almost a predatory attitude when it comes to food. To watch them eat you'd operator, but there are some think they had formed their plan of attack even before dinner was served, so thoro and precise is their system. Each bite is folded onto the fork, the distance between mouth and plate accurate ly gauged, and then this eager beaver makes a quick lunge toward the food, careful not to let if get away. Having dinner with one of these characters is like watching the marines establish a beachhead
