Pope Greet Italians Released in Russia

Rome — (CIP) — Every day several hundred Italians returning from prisoner-of-war camps in Russia are received in audience by the Pope. The Papal Relief Work for home comers and Refugees has been taking care of many of them, and it is well known that the Pope in person has seen to it that they are given food, clothing and travel provisions in sufficient quantities.

The Pope receives prisoners returning from Russia, listening to their stories and wishing them God's blessing on their future life.

Welcome home

age, return to the boy's parents for a home and then, through characteristic superficiality, slide into divorce. Three years later the boy, while an AAF officer in China (Did such "men" ever make the grade through officer's training?) learns his divorced wife had a son and put him out for adoption. Returning to taunt the young mother and demand custody of his son, this typical adolescent rebel discovers his young wife's charms and they reconcile. Script by Jo Pagano fails to indicate that marriage on the run and sponging on parents are hallmarks of selfishness and moral cowardice. Well acted by Joan Leslie (Catholic girl who did not enjoy playing the part!) and Robert Hutton, with fine support from Arthur Shields and Rosemary de Camp. The latter as parents of the young boy were too old and far too wise to have a 20-year-old son who was too young to know right from wrong.
