

Religious Freedom Clause In French Constitution

Paris — (RNS) — The Constitutional Commission of the French Constituent Assembly has adopted a clause in the draft of the proposed new constitution calling for separation of church and state and guaranteeing freedom of conscience and religion.

Four Army Men Officially Listed Among War Dead

By MARY CAREY

Rochester parishes this week marked up four more gold stars on their World War II honor rolls as the War Department declared four more fatalities.

Staff Sgt. Robert J. Frankenberger, 24, a member of St. Boniface parish, is officially presumed dead after being listed missing over New Britain since Sept. 2, 1943 his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Frankenberger, 341 Caroline St., have learned.

Memorial Mass for E. Frankberger was celebrated at 9:30 a. m., Saturday, Feb. 2, 1946, in St. Boniface Church.

A graduate of St. Boniface School the young sergeant had been in service a year and overseas only two months when his plane did not return. He was on his ninth mission.

Surviving besides his parents are two sisters, Mrs. Charles Stever and Miss Rosemary Frankenberger, and two brothers, Charles and George Frankenberger.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Albrecht, he had been in service two years and overseas six months when his plane was lost on a bombing mission.

Besides his wife and parents, he leaves a sister, Mrs. Richard Achter and a niece, Miss Judith Achter, both of Rochester.

Memorial Mass will be celebrated in St. Philip Neri Church at 7 a. m. Friday, Feb. 2, for Pfc. Michael Scamacca, who is now officially presumed dead.

Husband of Mrs. Grace DiMatino Scamacca, 2005 Chford Ave., Pfc. Scamacca entered service in May, 1944, and went overseas in October, 1944. He was reported missing in Germany Jan. 22, 1945.

Also surviving are his mother, Mrs. Angelina Scamacca; two children, Joyce, 5, and Michael Jr., 2½; and three sisters, Mrs. J. Palazzo, Mrs. Olga Inelma, and Mrs. Josephine Romans.

Memorial Mass for Lieut. Jerry Thomas Popoll, 25, presumed dead by the War Department, was offered Saturday, Jan. 26, 1946, in St. Peter and Paul's Church, Rochester.

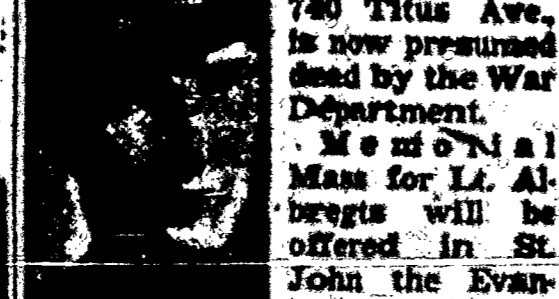

Lt. Popoll was listed missing in action Jan. 9, 1945, when the plane he was piloting, a B-25 Mitchell bomber, went down over Tokyo. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Popoll, 5 Henton St., Lt. Popoll had been overseas since October, 1944. He was based on Saipan in the Marianas Islands.

Other survivors are three brothers, Lt. Francis J. Popoll, USAAF, stationed in England; Robert and Edward Popoll, and a sister, Helen Popoll, all of Rochester.

Missing in action over Austria since Jan. 20, 1945, Second Lt. August M. Albrecht, 29, husband of Mrs. Yolanda Pierce Albrecht, 740 Titus Ave., is now presumed dead by the War Department.

Memorial Mass for Lt. Albrecht will be offered in St. John the Evangelist Church Saturday, Feb. 23 at 9 a. m.
