Corning Coast Guard Baton Expert Granted Discharge

Corning — Alex Kosty, son of Mrs. Mary Kosty, 174 E. Market St., recently discharged from the U. S. Coast Guard as Musician 1/c, made an enviable place for himself as a baton twirler while in the service.

The talented young man showed his ability, acquired through association with the St. Patrick's Cadets and the Corning Free Academy band, at the very outset of his service when he enlisted in January, 1943. Sent to Manhattan Beach Training Station it was not long before he became major of the training station drum and bugle corps.

Later young Kosty became a member of the Manhattan Beach U. S. Coast Guard Military Band which performed more than 1,000 times from January 1944 until December 1945. Notable among its appearances were those at the Admiral Nimitz Day parade in New York City; at the Stage Door Canteen where it was co-starred with Tommy Tucker's Band; at the AWVS rally at the Waldorf-Astoria at which Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt was guest of honor; at the annual religious service of the Archdiocesan Union of the Holy Name Society at the Polo Grounds, New York City, where Cardinal-designate Francis J. Spellman was among the spectators and at many important War Bond rallies. Each time Musician Kosty was featured in his outstanding act.

Now at home with his mother, "Al" hopes to enter college under the GI Bill of Rights.

Sister M. Kathleen S.S.J., of the Music Faculty of Nazareth College will be Chairman of Panel VI — Music Education in the Secondary School — at the Feb. 12 Conference of the Eastern Unit of the National Catholic Education Association, to be held at the V'Donnell Memorial High School, in Brooklyn.

Other members of the Panel are: Rev. John J. Ziemak of Cardinal Hayes High School, New York; Sister Rose Teresa S.S.J., of Nazareth Academy, Rochester; Sister Rose Frances I.H.M. of St. Dominic's High School, Gyter Bay, and Miss Margaret Leddy of the Plus X School of Liturgical Music, New York.

Sister Rose Teresa of Nazareth Academy will take two students of her voice culture classes, to demonstrate the work given at Nazareth Academy in special voice production. Miss Mary Jane Haigh and Miss Rosemary Brickler. Father Ziemak will bring students to demonstrate his new methods of teaching the strings to high school students.

The National Catholic Music Educators Association will hold their second National Convention in Cleveland March 27 and 28. Active members who plan to attend, should write Sr. Lucy, 3230 Rocky River Drive, Cleveland for accommodations.

Community Projects Enlist Collegians

With mid-year examinations completed, Nazareth College students are now turning their attention to participation in community projects.

During the recent campaign for the Infantile Paralysis Fund, students took an active part in collecting contributions in local theaters. Each student also was contacted by the college committee for her personal donation.

Over $50 has been turned in at this date, with more expected for the final report.

In response to the Bishop's urgent appeal for clothing for the war stricken peoples, the Frerin Mission Unit turned over a large assortment of clothing contributed by the students.

Originally a rummage sale for the benefit of the Missions was planned, but this project was changed so the college could participate more actively in the recent drive.

HOMEWORK HATER?

If you know Susie like we do, you wouldn't blame her. She's a bright kid, but you just can't get good reading light from the average dining room chandelier!

If your child dislikes homework, complains of headaches, or gets tired and sleepy, have her eyes examined—and also her light. Be sure all your reading lamps are equipped with the right-sized lamp bulbs. And keep plenty of spares on hand!
