Picture Parade

KEENEY
"THE LAST WARRIOR"  (Adults) Paramount. A magnificently produced and brilliantly acted study of a dynamite man. Theatricality depressing, this develops emphasis upon the tragic consequences of over-indulgence and implicitly argues the Catholic case for moderation. Ray Milland is seen as a young writer whose craving for drink leads him to all kinds of deceptions and brings him near to degradation. His brother (Philip Terry) gives up helping him, but the girl who loves him (Jane Wyman) fights in the end and eventually there is hope of his recovery. Several scenes are too realistic for the very young, and one may prove too much for squeamish adults. Definitely an intelligent film for people who can take ugly truths.
