Post-Easter Party Ideas Lined Up For Teen-Agers

and wearing as a placard on his back a huge calendar with one Friday, Saturday and Sunday conspicuously absent, could be nothing but "The Lost Weekend."

Perhaps you'll be besieged by requests for costume suggestions from unimaginative friends who haven't been able to think of anything to wear. So if you have a few ideas on hand you'll be an extremely popular person.

If one large group of nine wants to get together they can go as Snow White, the seven dwarfs, and the witch. These costumes can be dreamed out of stocking caps, old pajamas, and an abundance of pillows to make the short and fat figure of the dwarfs.

These of your friends can organize and come as doctor, lawyer, Indian chief. If you know a young doctor or intern he can supply you with the white doctor's uniform.

The presentation was made at a hon-voyage party given at the Conti Street USO Club in Mobile, operated by the Women's Division of the National Catholic Community Service.

WHAT IS NCCW? By REV. ALBERT J. SHAMON Diocesan Director National Council of Catholic Women

Since the NRA we have had more lettered organizations than letters in the alphabet. But long before this the NCCW was functioning.

NCCW sprang from the National Catholic Welfare Council (NCWC). Reformed in 1919 by Pope Benedict XV that the Universal Church was looking to America to be the "leader in all things Catholic."

NCCW is a federation a union, a tying together of all existing Catholic women organizations in the country. It seeks to reduce the many to one, so that the many may achieve the strength resultant from unity.
