

Admiral Nimitz Lauds Notre Dame War Work

Notre Dame, Ind. (NC)—Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz paid high tribute to the University of Notre Dame for its untiring work of training naval officers, in an address at a special convention here in the city of Notre Dame.

Five institutions, not excluding the two great service academies, have contributed more than 2000 graduates to the United States Navy in preparing young men for the arduous and dangerous duty of driving a crawling and powerful enemy back across the sea," Admiral Nimitz said.

"There are nearly 32,000 men who can speak proudly of having won their commissions in the Navy at this great university."

"Somewhere, in the crowded hours of their preparation for the grim business of war, they absorbed not only Notre Dame's traditional fighting spirit, but the spiritual strength, too, that this university imparts to all regarding the duty of those who come under its banner," he added.

The Rev. J. Hugh O'Donnell, Notre Dame's president, in his address called attention to what he called the battle lines between the forces of God and the forces of anti-God, saying that on the one side are those who accept the moral law and the responsibilities of citizenship and on the other are the supporters of atheism and materialism who believe that man exists for the state.

Among the more than 3,500 persons who crowded the Notre Dame Naval Drill Hall to witness the first special convention at the school since Pope Pius XII, then Cardinal Puffert, received an honorary degree in 1936 were Philip John F. Noll of Fort Wayne, and William R. Arnold, Chicago.

350,000 at Budapest Rites Honoring Mary

Budapest. (NC) — Attendance totaled more than 350,000 at two religious ceremonies here, as a day of pleading in honor of Our Lady of Hungary was observed for the dual intention of the welfare of the nation and a just, lasting peace.

Arranged under the auspices of Hungary's Catholic Action, which has centered its chief aim on devotion to Our Lady of Hungary during this year for the general intentions, the ceremonies reached a climax when 250,000 persons packed into the square in front of St. Stephen's Cathedral and heard a discourse by Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty, Primate of Hungary.

Earlier in the day, led by Cardinal Mindszenty, 100,000 persons participated in a pilgrimage on foot to an ancient and favorite shrine of the Blessed Virgin about seven miles from the outskirts of the city where the Cardinal Primate offered Mass and delivered a sermon.

The Cardinal exhorted the pilgrims to offer to God the pilgrimage and the Mass with a pledge of loyalty to the Church and their country. He exhorted the men in the pilgrimage to be exemplary fathers and to model their lives after the great St. Stephen, who was the first king of the Hungarians and converted the nation.

The strength, hope and consolation of the nation in the present difficult times, Cardinal Mindszenty said, lies in a deep-rooted faith in the teachings of the Church and faith in the Blessed Virgin.

The square in front of the cathedral was decorated with a multitude of flags belonging to the Church and other institutions, and the scene was reminiscent of the Eucharistic Congress of 1938 when His Holiness Pope Pius XII, then Cardinal Eugenio Pacelli, served as Papal Legate, and His Eminence Dennis Cardinal Dougherty, Archbishop of Philadelphia, the late Cardinal John J. Glennon, Archbishop of St. Louis, and many other members of the U. S. Hierarchy were present.

WHY WE MUST HELP
We are fortunate people. The average American today is eating more than ever before. And yet, 500,000,000 people in Europe and Asia—a quarter of the world's population—are hungry and starving. The battles that brought us victory, scourged most of the countries that fought with us. The worst drought in half a century followed the war. Disease has followed malnutrition.
MONEY CONTRIBUTIONS PREFERRED
More food can be obtained for a given amount of money if it can be bought centrally in large quantities. Considerable saving in the cost of collection, packing and transportation will also result. Cash contributions may be made to your local Emergency Food Collection in care of:
ELMER S. MILLIMAN, Treasurer, Central Trust Company
FOOD CONTRIBUTIONS MUST BE IN TINS
The kind of foods most needed are: Milk (Condensed, evaporated, or dried), Meat, Fish and Peanut Butter. Next on the list are: Baby Foods, Baked Beans, Stews, Soups, Honey, Fruits, Juices, and Vegetables. Send Food to The SALVATION ARMY, 110 EXCHANGE STREET.
President Truman has said: "There can be no lasting peace in a hungry world."
