Priest Asks Non-Catholics Not to Marry Catholics

Chicago (UPI) - A priest who should refrain from marrying Catholics, the Rev. Hugh Collins, O.S.M., declared in the current issue of Novena Notes, national Catholic weekly published here. "To non-Catholics thinking of marrying Catholics, we say: please don't," Father Collins stated in an editorial. "Belonging to the pledge a non-Catholic must make prior to the marriage, which requires that all children of the union be baptized as Catholics and brought up in the Catholic faith, Father Collins said, 'If you are a devout non-Catholic, how can you in conscience swear to such promises?'"
