

Red Attacks Draw Protest By Catholics

Rome — (RNS) — Italian Catholics staged a solemn Eucharistic procession through the streets of Gorizia, in Venezia Giulia, as a protest against recent attacks by Communist newspapers on Msgr. Carlo Margotti, Archbishop of Gorizia. The procession included priests, nuns and laymen from Gorizia and surrounding areas.

Sodality of Our Lady

The Summer School of Catholic Action, under the auspices of the Sodality of Our Lady, began its sixteenth consecutive year in New Orleans on June 10. Held for one week following the convention in Chicago, it is now being conducted in Chicago, and will move to San Antonio, Texas, on July 20, thence to New York on August 19 and Chicago again on August 28.

'ADOPT' G. I. GRAVES

Through the initiative of a young Dutch priest, Father Huischaen, of Margaret, Limburg Province, Dutch families have "adopted" the graves of 2,800 American soldiers buried in Holland. In this picture, a little girl is shown placing flowers on a grave. Photographs of the graves are also taken and sent to relatives in America. A number of other European countries are also adopting graves of U. S. soldiers. (NC Photos)

Trojan-Horse Tactics

The theme of the greatest poems of antiquity, those of Homer and Vergil, centered round the Trojan war. A woman provoked this war. The Greeks launched 10,000 ships to destroy Troy because the Trojan Paris snatched Helen, the wife of the Spartan Menelaus, to elope with him.

For nine years the Greeks besieged Troy, and for nine years mighty Troy repelled the besiegers. Despairing of subduing it by force, the resentful Greeks resolved to resort to a stratagem. They built a wooden horse, but like a modern tank, they filled it with armed warriors.

Now we have a country we love — the land of the free and the home of the brave. But today the foreign forces of Communism are invading its shores. The Greek philosopher, however, Communism can never take America by frontal attack; it must resort to Trojan-horse tactics.

Remember, Judas!

Remember, Judas! He knew Divinity was sacred, and could therefore be overthrown only by some external mark of affection. He came, consequently, as a FRIEND and betrayed the Son of Man with a KISS.
