

State Verein Honors Rochester Delegates

Two Rochesterians were elected to office in the New York State Branch, Catholic Central Verein at the Golden Jubilee Convention held in Brooklyn Aug. 23 in conjunction with the 27th annual Convention of the National Catholic Women's Union.

Joseph H. Gerwin of Rochester was chosen as fourth vice president of the State Verein and the temporary presidency went to Charles T. Trotter.

Another Rochesterian honored was Anthony Keurig, one of the three surviving former members of the 10-year-old organization.

State President Richard F. McCormick in his message to the gathering paid tribute to Mr. Keurig and the other charter members of the organization formerly known as the "State Verein."

Reverend Father Joseph H. Gerwin, pastor of St. John's Church, Rochester, was elected to the position of vice president of the State Verein.

The convention opened daily Friday, Aug. 23 with an address by Bernard F. Jansen, president of the Erie-Buffalo Verein. Mr. Jansen was elected to the State Presidency during the proceedings.

Formal opening of the four day convention followed a high mass at Fourteen Holy Mary's Church Auxiliary Bishop Raymond A. Kearney of Brooklyn was chief speaker at the opening.

Following the formal Church of God he declared "the Church of God is not a house of an individual man, but the Church of God is a community of men."

The N. C. W. U. conducted a series of its "Mater Unity" program. Rev. Joseph L. Patrick, auxiliary bishop of Brooklyn, Catholic Charities delivered the main address on "The Dignity of Motherhood" and the Church's obligation to birth control.

The convention's main program was religious, social, political, patriotic and world affairs.
