

Budenz Lecture Set In Columbus Auditorium

Selection of the Columbus Civic Center Auditorium as the place to hold the dramatic lecture of Louis Budenz, Editor of The Communist Party, has been announced by Reverend John S. Randall, Managing Editor of The Columbus Journal.

On Guard!

(Continued from Page 1) Louis Budenz is a "very important character" in the life of the American people, according to the late Senator Charles McNary. He is a man who has been in the front line of the struggle against the Soviet Union since it was established by the state and the Communist party. . . . The amount of time allotted to a worker for leisure depends upon the type of work he is engaged in and the quality of his performance. The amount of time he may go in search of rest or recreation is likewise determined for him. The groups within which he belongs are organized and activated by Communist party members. The sports in which he participates are designed to strengthen his physical power and skills for military and labor purposes. His cultural activities during leisure time are further conditioned by the political control of newspapers and books, plays of movies and radio programs of musical groups.

Pastor Redecorates Church for Jubilee

Transmuting—In preparation for the Golden Jubilee of St. James the Apostle Church's dedication at which His Excellency, Bishop Kearney will officiate on Sunday, Nov. 3, improvements are being made to the church edifice.

Actual work of painting and decorating is being done by the Rev. Leonard A. Kelly, pastor, and returned Navy Chaplain. Assisting are his sister, Miss Fern H. Kelly and Robert Kline, a theological student from the Seminary of Mount St. Mary's of the West and the Diocese of Columbus, Ohio.

Leading valuable assistance was given by the Rev. Vincent P. Collins, assistant pastor, Immaculate Conception Church, Ithaca, and a recently discharged Marine Corps Staff Sergeant who served with Father Kelly in the Pacific and Robert Hayes, a boy at the parish.

Several graduates of Nazareth College and many of Father Kelly's other friends have made generous financial contributions to help in the work.

In a letter to many of his friends, Father Kelly stated: "The parishioners of St. James are generous and cooperative in their help."

Catholic Alumnae Pledge Decent Literature Drive

Representatives from more than 200 Catholic high schools, colleges and universities in 20 States, in a convention here pledged themselves to do all they possibly can to discourage the spread of immoral literature of all types, to develop positive campaigns for the support of good literature and to promote positive action toward increasing of public opinion in the light of Catholic teachings.

Adoption of these resolutions concluded the 17th biennial convention of the International Federation of Catholic Alumnae held here Monday through Wednesday, Sept. 6-8, at the Hotel Hamilton, presided at the session by Mrs. Edward F. Flupatrik, convent station, N. J., second vice-president. Rosemary McNally, Pittsburg, third vice-president; Peggy McGuire, Chicago, secretary; Mrs. Everett Hewitt, Farmington, Va., corresponding secretary; Lovetta A. Dupuis, Detroit, treasurer.
