Possibility Of Depression Is Evaluated

Hartford, Conn. — (NC) — Concern of labor, government officials and priests over the possibility of an economic depression was expressed at the meeting of the Catholic Conference on Industrial Problems, held here under the sponsorship of Bishop Henry J. O'Brien of Hartford, who said that the discussions would help toward giving the people a clearer understanding of the teachings of the Church on the important social questions of the day.

Discussing the economic outlook, Joseph P. McMurray, economic analyst for the Senate Committee on Education and Labor, predicted a business recession, unless Congress enacts legislation providing for a better distribution of goods.

There is little hope for such Congressional action, he said, unless intelligent citizens take a more active part and show greater interest in the legislation which Congress will be asked to pass during the next session.

Rough Economic Journey

Terming the present economic situation "abnormal," Mr. McMurray predicted that we may never come back to "normal" and that "we are certainly in for a rough economic journey."

James Brownlow, secretary of the Metal Trades Division, A. F. of L., in a paper on wages, prices and production, asserted that trade unions "have never accepted the unsound theory that wages must or should be geared to the cost of living," because the unions are committed to an ever higher standard of living and ever higher real wages.

The relationship between labor and employer was discussed by Ellsworth Grant, vice president of the Allen Manufacturing Co., who represented management, Timothy Flynn, CIO representative, who developed the view point of labor, and the Rev. Benjamin L. Masse, S. J., associate editor of America.

Mr. Grant developed a program offering labor a large share in management and production, greater job security and more understanding for the workers' difficulties and grievances. Mr. Flynn said that the establishment of harmonious relations between management and labor depended on a "change of attitude" on the part of the big corporations.

Wide Compulsory Arbitration

Father Masse, discussing the application of Papal teachings to the labor-management problem, declared that the United States had become the last hope of freedom and democracy in the world, and warned that this was no time for labor and management to be "slugging it out."

Compulsory arbitration is a dangerous solution for the labor-management problem, Father Masse said, reminding that strikes have been successfully outlawed only in three countries: in Germany under Hitler, in Italy under Mussolini and in Russia under Stalin.

The Rev. John F. Cronin, Assistant Director of the Social Action Department, National Catholic Welfare Conference, called for a moratorium on labor strife, and a meeting of management and labor representatives which should act in order to prevent any depression by presenting a "united front against the sickening recurrence of boom, bust and depression." The present inflationary trend is "contrary to justice and the

Protestants Reluctant to Try Msgr. Tiso

Washington — (NC) — Reluctance of Protestant judges in Slovakia to assume responsibility for the conviction of Catholics tried on political charges is believed to be one of the main reasons for the postponement of the trial of Msgr. Josef Tiso, Slovakia's war-time president, which was scheduled to open in August.

According to dispatches from Slovakia received here, Protestant jurists "are tired of being judges and executioners of Slovak collaborators," fearing a powerful reaction of the entire Slovak nation against Protestantism.

Protestant clergymen, some of whom hold important posts in the present Slovak regime, are said to have held a secret meeting at Ruzemberok, Slovakia, where the whole matter was discussed. Several speakers are reported to have expressed regret at the fact that Protestant judges and prosecutors prominently figure in the trials at the Bratislava "National Court" where a number of so-called collaborators have received death sentences and long prison terms.

Always Find Pretext

It was pointed out at the secret session, the dispatches from Slovakia state, "that Catholic judges always find a pretext to absent themselves from the National Court' with the result that the judges and prosecutors at collaboration trials are invariably Protestants."

Leaders of the Evangelical Church in Slovakia are believed to be deeply concerned over the situation and, as a result, recommendations were adopted at the secret meeting to the effect that "Protestant judges should shift judicial responsibility to their Catholic colleagues."

In this connection, it is reported that Josef Lettrich, chairman of the Slovak National Council and political leader of the Protestants, plans to leave for the United States on a lecture tour, thus providing himself with a convenient opportunity to be absent from the forthcoming Tiso trial and to evade responsibility.

In addition to Monsignor Tiso, who is classified as a "war criminal," [illegible] and one priest are being held by the Security Police in Bratislava on charges of collaboration with the enemy, because they were members of the wartime Slovak legislature.

Cousin Offers Mass For Mrs. Cochrane

Corning — Mrs. Mary C. Hart Cochrane of 128 E. First St., died Wednesday, Sept. 25, 1946, in Corning Hospital following a brief illness. She was born in Cushing, the daughter of Patrick and Honora Neary Hart and spent her life here. She was a member of St. Patrick's Church, the Stella Maris Society and the League of the Sacred Heart of that Church.

Survivors include: one sister, Mrs. Frank H. Suits, Corning; one brother, James Hart, Corning; one nephew, J. Hart McMahon, of Newark, N. J.; one niece, Mrs. William Hallahan of Washington, D. C.

Funeral services were held Saturday at 9:30 a. m. from the late home and at 10 o'clock in St. Patrick's Church. The Rev. E. Leo McManmon, assistant pastor of St. Mary's Church, Auburn, who was a cousin of the deceased celebrated the Requiem Mass. The Rev. E. A. Rawlinson, pastor, and the Rev. Thomas Cleary, assistant pastor, were in the Sanctuary. Father McManmon officiated at committal services at St. Mary's Cemetery.

'Three Worlds'

Visualizing the struggle in the world today as a triangular conflict between three forms of government, liberal, communist and fascist society, Dr. Nicholas S. Timasheff, associate professor of sociology at Fordham University, outlines organization for survival of liberal society in a new book, "Three Worlds," just published.

Vienna Catholics Aid Nazi Victims

Vienna — (RNS) — Thirteen tons of canned meat, milk, and vegetables have been turned over by Vienna Caritas, Catholic charitable organization, in the past three months to aid 8,800 needy victims of Nazi political and racial persecution, it was disclosed here. Part of the supplies were received from War Relief Services of the National Catholic Welfare Conference in the United States.

Caritas also provided ten tons of flour during the first week of September to maintain feeding programs for Viennese school children threatened by the maritime strike in the United States which prevented shipment of UNRRA supplies.

Delegate Unveils Papal Plaque At Kansas City

Kansas City, Mo. — (NC) — His Excellency Archbishop Amleto Giovanni Cicognani, Apostolic Delegate to the United States, addressed the Joyce Kilmer club here in connection with the unveiling of a plaque at the Kansas City Municipal Airport commemorating the 1936 visit of Cardinal Secretary of State Eugenio Pacelli, now His Holiness Pope Pius XII.

The Apostolic Delegate, who described the Kansas City airport as "one of the principal centers of the airways crossing the United States and, we may say, of the whole Western Hemisphere," said that the Holy Father's likeness had been placed there as a memorial to his desire to visit as much of the United States as he possibly could, which he accomplished then by travelling by plane from coast to coast.

Book for Priests' Meditations Out

Wichita — (NC) — A new volume of practical meditations for priests entitled "Keepers of the Eucharist," by Msgr. William Schaefers, editor of The Advance Register, diocesan paper here, with a foreword by Bishop Christian H. Winkelmann of Wichita, has just been released by the Bruce Publishing Company, Milwaukee.

Msgr. Schaefers' meditations first appeared as a series of articles written for Emmanuel, official monthly of the Priests' Eucharistic League, yielding to repeated requests Msgr. Schaefers compiled them in book form.

Slovak Catholic Publishers Progress

Prague — (NC) — Great progress in the work of the Society of St. Adalbert, Catholic publishing house with headquarters at Trnava, Slovakia, was reported at the 76th annual meeting of the organization, which has more than 12,000 overseas members among the Slovaks in the United States and Canada.

Despite the difficult post-war situation, the Society has gained 14,000 new members during the past years, the greatest increase in its history. Total membership is now 167,000. Although Slovak Catholics have many grievances under the present leftist Slovak administration, it is noted with great satisfaction that the Society has been able to work unhindered.
