...rent Book Cues

By Rev. Benedict Ehmann

...Lieb Liebman's Peace of Mind is now a top best ... are evidently hungry for good counsel about ... of their lives. Mr. Liebman's book, however, ... There ... of mind apart ... and ... is nothing about that revelation in Mr. Liebman's book. The reason that Mr. Liebman keeps talking about is a merely natural religion, full of fears and fetishes ... cleared by a ... with psycho... As a result, he does not ... very clear to a good solu... the ... of mind. He ... actively unaware that ... of the essential practices ... commands, as almost new ... a commonplace ... spiritual progress ... part of very an... ... But ... when ... and accepted ... to ... ... Anxious readers have nothing to gain, and will lose ... by ... ... for true peace of mind is to be found in many ... which are ... Here many of us have really done justice to the ... of Christ or to ... Francis de Sales. Interesting as a psychic life, not merely as books to read, but as guide books for action? Archbishop Goodier's The Inner Life of the Catholic is a simple, comprehensive and attractive ... ... And if it be accused of not ... the facts of psychology or of not paying ... attention to people's ... ... Fr. Wagner's Peace of Mind and Successful Living which began by being a ... ... I recently heard about, which is studying Fr. Wagner's ... with the guidance of ... a good solu... ... others to take up ... ... are ... in every par...

• • •

Grace Stone of Wyoming, by ... is rated as well ... suitable for all ... ... Friend Phillis ... Friend.

• • •

Out on a Limb was written by a lady who lost her right leg when she was a child. It is the informal account of the way she overcame her handicap to take part in active work and even in sports. It is offered specifically to disabled veterans for their encouragement. But, sorry to say, the book has its drawbacks. It is flippant about the wrong things, and even verges on the blasphemous in a reference to the filming of The Song of Bernadette, about which the remark is made that the star of the picture planned to grow her a ... for a miracle. The book is unsuitable for general reading.

• • •

On the disapproved list:

Speak the Big Lady, by Cy Caldwell . . . Suggestive language. libelous canards about the Church, revolting situations.

Island in the Atlantic, by Waldo Frank . . . The book ... reeks of sex," says reviewer Marie Faust.

• • •

The Rochester Rvidenee Library in the Columbus Civic Centre is beginning its fourteenth year. It opened on November 6, 1933 with approximately five hundred books. It has now reached the eighteen-hundred mark. The books are bought chiefly out of the income which accrues from the penny a day rentals. They include fiction, biography, Lives of the Saints, poetry and essays, history, philosophy and sociology, theology and spiritual guidance. An effort is made to keep consistently up to date with current publications. Most of the books are by Catholic authors, but there is a good share of books by non-Catholics.

The location of the Library in the lobby of the Columbus Civic Centre is central and quite accessible to most people at some time or other of the week. Library authorities have admired the location of the room, and its bright and homish atmosphere. One bad drawback is lack of space for ... of Library service are from 4 to 6 and from 7 to 9, every day except Saturday and Sunday, legal holidays and Good Friday, and the day before Christmas and New Year.

The staff is entirely volunteer, as is the processing of the books for library distribution. This latter is provided by the Library staff of Our Lady of Mercy High School. Occasionally there are hitches in the ... on their day of service. Sometimes these are unavoidable, and they have to be tolerated with patience. But on the whole the volunteer service is most commendable, and calls for cordial gratitude from all who benefit by it; without it the Library could not function.

It would be more encouraging if public interest and patronage measured up to the spirit of the volunteers. The Library should serve a wider clientele, in view of the wide range of fine books that it offers. All we can say to friends of this. And yet only about fifty books go out per week—an average which library authorities would call very small. We ask our priests to talk it up and show people the way, and the teachers of our high school seniors to acquaint their students with it for the days after graduation. We invite your inspection.

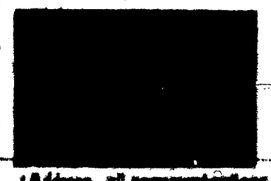
Natives Dance Thanks For Medical Aid

New York — (NC) — First they fell on their knees and prayed fervently for those who sent the donation. Then they got up and started a tribal dance to express their joy. Such was the reaction of a group of Nyasaland natives to the arrival of a shipment of medicines from the Catholic Medical Mission Board, a letter from the Community of the Daughters of Wisdom reported at headquarters of the mission board here.

This letter from the African mission was one of a group of five missionaries from four different mission territories who stopped in at the board in the course of one day to get aid in meeting the medical needs of their people, an illustration of the burgeoning activities of the board since the end of the war.

Human Side

(Candid portrayal of Christ is the Rev. Lee C. Hoeck, author of "For All To Live By," popular spiritual reading book which is the November selection of the Catholic Literary Foundation. Father Hoeck shows the human side of Christ and His relation to the same troubles and problems which people face today so that humans can follow the normal, yet Christlike, way of life. The author is dean of students and registrar at St. Ambrose College, Davenport, Iowa.



(Address all communications to Catholic War Veterans, Inc., Public Relations Bureau, 1100 Empire State Bldg., New York 1, N. Y.)

Q. A former aviation cadet, who served for two months and then says he was given a ... certificate and disability discharge due to a defective lung. His claims for a disability pension were disallowed on the grounds that defect was not incurred in service, despite the fact that his ... was accepted after being X-rayed. He wonders if he may be considered a disabled veteran for the purpose of taking a Civil Service examination.

A. To be granted preference as a disabled veterans by the Civil Service Commission, you ... in the ... by the Veterans' Administration. Therefore, you again endeavor to have the Veterans' Administration grant you a disability rating. If you will send me all a photostatic copy of both sides of your ... ment discharge, and a letter giving all the details, particularly your Veterans' Administration ... number, we will advise you as to filing an appeal. If you are recommended we will prepare your appeal for you, and if you wish we will represent you before the V.A. Rating Board, at no charge.

Q. A ... who was discharged ... ago ... to ... ... Life Insurance. He originally had a ... certificate but inquires if he may ... ... to take out ... ... of $10,000.

A. Yes. Military Service Life Insurance may be converted to a ... ...