HUNGARY GETS DELAYED RELIEF

Budapest — (NC) — With the safe arrival of 470 tons of food supplied by War Relief Services-National Catholic Welfare Conference and the expected early arrival of another consignment of 300 tons, sufficient supplies are now on hand in Budapest to give sustenance to [illegible] needy during the next three months.

With the approach of winter, the number of those appealing for assistance is however increasing each day. In the course of one week, no less than 25,000 have applied for aid.

A letter addressed to the N.C.W.C. News Service correspondent here by Stephen Balogh, secretary of the Prime Minister, disclaims all responsibility for the delay in the transportation of supplies furnished by War Relief Services-N.C.W.C. The letter stated that the Hungarian government had made all necessary arrangements to speed the transportation of American supplies from Vienna to Budapest and that it will continue to do everything within its power to ensure the safe and speedy arrival of future consignments.

The 470-ton consignment that just arrived here has been taken to the warehouse of Hungary's Catholic Action.

Leper Aid Hailed by N. Gandhi

Tuticorin, India — (NC) — Catholics interested in the cause for the canonization of Father Damien, SS.CC., Flemish apostle of the lepers at Molokai, were pleased with the [illegible] paid to Father [illegible] by Mahatma Gandhi, famous Hindu statesman, when he was studying the problems of the lepers in India and the service rendered to them by the missionaries.

On the occasion of the recent opening of a special institution for lepers here, at which Bishop Francis [illegible], S.J., of Tuticorin, officiated, Mr. Ghandhi said:

"As these very name suggests, missionaries are sent for a purpose, to be heralds of God and of His revelation to mankind. They engage in social work because they see in such work a means of bringing men closer to God, because social injustice is a great evil which offends the [illegible] God as much as it harms the human victims. Services of lepers is very dear to the missionary, and chiefly to the Roman Catholic missionary, because no other forms of service requires so great a spirit of sacrifice. A leper colony calls for high idealism and perfect disinterestedness.

It is hard. Let men pick and hammer it is great. It is America's task. We cannot avoid the responsibility."

In a direct plea to the [illegible] Pope Pius said: "May the youth [illegible] American youth always ready and eager to [illegible] wholeheartedly [illegible] and [illegible] for them [illegible] and [illegible] a challenge to their [illegible] may they [illegible] the torch of faith [illegible] you to the [illegible] and carry it [illegible] to the ends of the earth."

Recalls U. S. Visit

Recalling that it was just 10 years ago that he visited the United States at the end of [illegible] memory during the [illegible] was a country and [illegible] of [illegible] progress." He [illegible] Father and the [illegible] and [illegible] back to the days when "the first priest and [illegible] the country had [illegible] the principles of the New World."

"A thousand times, Father Lagoda was leaving [illegible] his children [illegible] to [illegible] to return [illegible] can imagine [illegible] to the [illegible] to describe the [illegible] instead of a yearning [illegible] he knew and [illegible] much before the [illegible] desire of going and [illegible] of healing and [illegible] but with [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] turn but it [illegible] but it would return.

"For his heart never ceased to be a captive of the love of God and God's love of souls that had [illegible] on the young priest of 17 years and planted it in the garden of religious life."

In a striking [illegible] to the two [illegible] Father Lagoda, [illegible] to serve [illegible] by God, the Holy Father recalled that [illegible] the priest—"not a Celtic [illegible] a carpenter"—they were [illegible] by the same love of God and the same deep [illegible] of self-dedication" to the cause of Christ.

"They did not want to go to heaven alone," he said. "Their faith was too precious not to want to share it with others. Their sense of being Catholic was tremendous, did it not make them conscious of a duty to all the peoples of the world.
