Bureau Offers Three-Fold Christmas Sharing Service to Rochesterians

Marking its 20th anniversary the Rochester Christmas Bureau, which conducts three related operations which have proved their usefulness in making Christmas sharing go farther, is prepared to assist thousands of Rochesterians, Bureau managers state this week.

The Christmas Bureau serves to put the right gift into the hands of the right person. It reaches those for whom Christmas, otherwise would be just another day in December. It maintains the self-respect of families.

How the Christmas Bureau will assist the Rochesterians who observe the old and hallowed tradition of sharing their Christmas-time blessings with others less fortunate than they is cited under three headings.

First: It operates a centralized clearing file through which donors may "clear" the names of families they wish to remember, so that duplicated giving may be avoided. Hundreds of donors habitually use this clearing service, and it has proved most effective in preventing situations in which one family might receive five or six Christmas baskets, while the family next door, in almost identical financial circumstances, would receive nothing at all. To clear a family, telephone Main 6774.

Second: It receives, from social agencies, the names of families and individuals which in the judgment of the social agencies should be remembered either with Christmas dinners or with gifts, or both. If you wish, it will assign one of these families to you; you, in turn, take over the happy task of providing the Third: It raises funds, solicited from a selected list of interested givers, with which to purchase Christmas gifts for families not assigned to individual donors. The recommendations of the social agency referring the family or individual is followed in each case. A mother may be, and generally is, given money with which to buy toys for her own children. Special gifts—a theater trip for an elderly couple, a Christmas dinner at a restaurant, a concert ticket, a scarf, a bright new necktie—are bought for individuals for lonely and elderly people, invalids, shut-ins, who otherwise would be overlooked and forgotten at Christmas time.

Individuals, churches, clubs, industrial groups, are invited to make use of the Christmas Bureau. "By all means, clear your families if your plans are already made. Make Christmas brighter for yourself by making it bright for others," the managers state.

KEEP MAIL BOX, ROAD CLEAR

Conditions of roads and approaches to mail boxes after snow storms should be such that it will be possible for Rural and Mounted Route Carrier to travel them, Donald A. Dalley, Rochester postmaster warned this week.

Patrons of the postal service are advised to take up the matter with the highway officials "with a view of having arrangements made, wherever practicable, to keep the roads open for travel."

"Under the regulations (sec. 1063 P. L. and R.)" the postmaster states, "patrons are not only expected to, but required to keep clear the approaches to their mail boxes by promptly removing obstructions.

This includes snow which has been pushed over and on the approaches to the mail boxes by the snowplow, or slush pushed over by the plow and allowed to harden as well as other impediments, so that the carrier may be able to deliver mail to the boxes without alighting from his vehicle.

Unless the approaches are cleared in accordance with above, within a reasonable time after snowfalls, the delivery by carrier may be withheld temporarily until the approaches have been cleared.

Although every effort will be made by the rural and mounted carriers to effect a daily delivery of mail to all patrons on the routes, their time must be conserved so that they may be able to make deliveries promptly to those who do co-operate by removing snow and ice from the approaches to the boxes.

'Mercy Killing' K. C. Study Topic

Euthanasia or so-called "Mercy Killing" will be the discussion topic of Rochester Council, Knights of Columbus Discussion group when it meets Thursday, Dec. 12 at 8:15 p. m. in Parlor A, Columbus Civic Centre.

He entered the United States Army in the Medical Corps, July 1, 1942 and served until honorably discharged on Mar. 17, 1946. Upon his discharge, Dr Hofschneider held the rank of major with the 126th Infantry Regiment, Red Arrow Division. He spent most of his time in service in the Pacific theater of operation. Group Formed To Advise On New School Buildings

Detroit — (NC) — A group of outstanding Catholic educators, appointed by Msgr. Frederick G. Hochwalt, Secretary General of the National Catholic Educational Association, has met here and formed the NCEA Committee on Schoolhouse Planning and Construction, as a guide to diocesan officials and religious superiors in post war school construction projects.

At its inaugural meeting, the committee issued a statement explaining that its work embraces a two-fold objective: (1) To outline steps and procedures, and to recommend means which will assist in planning and constructing elementary and secondary schools of the future; and (2) to encourage the establishment of minimum standards in Catholic school buildings with regard to economy of expenditure, dignity of design, maximum utility of space, functional efficiency, and pupils' health and safety.

The committee decided to parcel out its work into five broad areas with each member responsible for each major section assigned. The following assignments were made: the Rev. Paul Campbell, Pittsburgh, site and building, the Rev. Felix Pitt, Louisville, Ky., academic classrooms and kindergartens; the Rev. Leo Keaveny, St. Cloud, Minn., special classrooms; the Rev. John J. Voight, New York, general service rooms, and Brother Eugene Streckfus, St. Louis, administrative rooms and service systems.

The committee recommended that Catholic institutions, particularly the Catholic University of America and St. Louis University, offer courses in schoolhouse planning and construction, and schoolhouse maintenance and operation and also urged that the Committee be permitted to present papers or conduct panel discussion on schoolhouse planning and construction before the elementary, secondary and seminary sections of the NCEA at its 1947 convention.
