Four scholarships will be awarded, by preference, to sons of deceased or deceased parents who will be considered on their merit, education, character and family background. A written application must be submitted to the Knights of Columbus, Council 7, of Rochester, one half by the student himself with the signature of his teacher or other educational institution in the state.

Applications must be filed with the Scholarship Committee of the New York State Council no later than March 25, 1947. The examinations will be held on Saturday, May 1, 1947 at centers to be announced throughout the state.

Each scholarship will entitle the holder to receive $200 a year for four years. It is applied to books, or to rent, tuition, room and board, or any other expenses of the United States Government's educational plan. Scholarships are available to students in secondary schools, who are admitted only to Catholic schools or universities for the academic year 1946-1947 and to non-Catholic institutions. The maximum of six of these scholarships does not prevent the holder from enrolling any other postsecondary school or college before or after she may be. The award for each year will be based on the holder's holding a satisfactory record during the preceding year.

A candidate must reside in New York State and be a practicing Catholic boy or girl in the age group.

Registration fees for Mr. Valentine, New York City's esteemed "cop cop," who was the city's Police Commissioner for 11 years and was recently returned from Japan where he aided Gen. Candidate of the Mass was the Rev. Joseph A. McCormick, and the Most Rev. Raymond A. Kearney, Auxiliary Bishop of Brooklyn, presided. The Rev. Stephen McGrath was Deacon of the Rev. Edward McCarthy who was succeeded. In the Novitiate were two police chaplains, the Rev. Msgr. Lawrence H. Brocato and the Rev. Msgr. Joseph A. McCaffrey.

A native of Brooklyn, Mr. Valentine took the police and fire departments examinations when he was 18 and passed both. He has served the Police department with distinction for 45 years, rising by merit to the post of Commissioner.

Applications should be had at the Central office of the area in which applicant resides. The signature of the applicant, that of his parent or guardian and that of the pastor or pastor of the applicant must be given. The certification of former person in authority in the applicant's present school, that applicant is a candidate for promotion, also is required.

All applications for these scholarships would submit to an independent examination in Health, Education, and Composition, United States History (from 1789 to date) and Mathematics.

The late Lewis J. Valentine, Police Commissioner of the City of New York was a Catholic who exemplified his devotion to Catholic principles in his public and his private life.

In his column By the Way in The Catholic News, Richard J. Reid, editor, says Mr. Valentine was a loyal member of the Knights of Columbus which presented him the Catholic Action Medal at exercises in 1941 at the Shrine of the North American Martyrs, Auriesville.

In presenting the award, Bishop James E. Kearney of Rochester, then the state chaplain of the Knights of Columbus, paid tribute to him as a man who has never forgotten his faith in his steady service in the public service.

Bishop Kearney said further: "I think the supreme tribute to the Commissioner's wife has been honored here this afternoon in this public expression on the part of the Knights of Co-

LCBA in New Home Office Buys Half Million in Bonds

This beautiful home in Erie, Pa., has become the Home Office of the Ladies Catholic Benevolent Association. Supreme Officers met there this month.

Purchase of $500,000 in United States Treasury 2½ per cent bonds was authorized at a Board of Supreme Trustees meeting of the Ladies Catholic Benevolent Association held in the new Erie, Pa., home office. Mrs. Anna L. Ryan of Rochester, a Supreme trustee, attended the meeting.

A reception to honor the Most Rev. Mark Gammon, Bishop of Erie, who accepted the position as Supreme Spiritual Advisor of the Association in July, was held by the supreme officers in the newly acquired Home Office.

Bishop Gammon congratulated the Association on having secured such a desirable building for its Home Office and thanked the members of the Erie Diocese for their contribution to the building of the Convent of February 18, at which he received the Red Hat. Five other Cardinals have died in the past year, reducing the present total membership of the Sacred College to 64. Italy lost three cardinals in the past year while the United States, Germany and Spain each lost one.

Three of these deaths occurred among the group of new Cardinals who had received the Red Hat in the Convent of February 18, 1946 — namely, Cardinals Glennon, Von Galen of Germany and Parrado y Garcia of Spain. The others were: Cardinal Boetto, S.J., Gasparri and Caccia Dominioni, all of Italy.

Last of this group of six to die during the past year was Camillo Cardinal Caccia Dominioni, who died on November 12. He was named Cardinal in December 1935, and was Plus XI's "right-hand man."

Cardinal Caccia Dominioni was preceded in death by Spain's Cardinal Agostino Parrado y Garcia, Archbishop of Valladolid, who died on October 8. He was named Cardinal by Pope Plus XII in December 1945.

Italy's Cardinal Enrico Gasparri, who was Prefect of the Supreme Tribunal of the Apostolic See, died on November 12, 1945.

In addition to the Board of Supreme Trustees, other Supreme Officers attending were: Supreme Recorder, Miss Margaret M. Carroll, Erie, Pa.; Supreme First Vice President, Miss Martha Leavy, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Supreme Second Vice President, Miss Anneke Yost, Syracuse, N. Y., and Editor of the Fraternal Leader, Miss Rose Callahan, Batavia, N. Y.

Reports made by officers indicate that there has been increased interest in work for the dead since July, when Bishop Gammon became Supreme Spiritual Advisor.

The reception was attended by members of the clergy also leading City and County officials. Large groups were present from Corry, Albion, Titusville and Pittsburgh, Pa., also from Cleveland and Toledo. Rev. Francis J. McGlynn, St. Thomas Aquinas Church, Cleveland, accompanied the group from that section.

"Commissioner Valentine followed in death another distinguished public servant in a similar field, the late Fire Commissioner Patrick Walsh, one of the most exemplary Catholics New York has ever seen in an public position.

On this program, "Punishment, these experts say, only suppresses a child's natural desire for self-expression and hurts his future personality development," Father Calkins said. "Yet it is because of such foolish experts and their thoughtless followers that America is filled with spoiled children and juvenile criminals. Their desire for self-expression has been allowed to run wild. Early and firm and frequent punishment would have taught them to discipline their lives."

"A restoration of the fine art of punishment which seeks not to harm but to hurt, is needed for disciplined children in families," Father Calkins said. He added that hurting them "only means within their body's feeling of their sensitive emotional bodies" but the hurt always is relieved for the cure that follows.

"Juvenile misbehavior was far worse in the days of the camp and the woodshed," Father Calkins said, and teenagers, of course, are found, "there was no punishment in being bad." One of the first lessons children must learn is personal responsibility for their own actions, the Society's priest asserted, and the next lesson should be that a real punishment is the price of disobedience.

Father Calkins insisted that a parent who punishes a child for failure to live up to the God within everywhere should will discover that the child admits he deserves the punishment he gave without having to groan.

Six Vacancies in Sacred College; 32 Named in '45

Washington — (NC) — "We have been anxious that the greatest possible number of races and peoples would be represented so that this creation may portray in a living manner the universality of the Church."

One year has passed since these memorable words were uttered by His Holiness Pope Pius XII in his 1945 Christmas allocution to the College of Cardinals.

The naming of 32 new Cardinals is a precedent-breaking Consistory brought the Sacred College, much depleted during the war years, from a total of 38 members to its full complement of 76, representing every continent and 23 countries. A further precedent was established in the composition of the Sacred College. With 26 Italian and 42 non-Italian Cardinals the non-Italian contingent was the numerically largest in history.

To the Western Hemisphere

it meant the record-breaking total of 14 Cardinals in the Sacred College. One of these, the Archibishop of St. Louis, John Cardinal Glennon, died in his native Ireland on March 9, 1946, while enroute to America from the Consistory of February 18, at which he received the Red Hat.
