

Defendants Tied

The defendants in the case of the German people's court, which is now in session in the city of Berlin, are tied together by a common thread. The thread is the fact that they are all German citizens, and that they are all accused of crimes against the German people. The court is now in its second session, and it is expected that it will continue for some time yet.

DEMOCRACY SEEN NEEDING CHURCH

Democracy needs the church, not as much as the church needs democracy, according to a statement made by the Rev. John A. Mohr, a member of the clergy of the First Methodist Church, in a speech made at the annual conference of the National Council of Churches, in New York City, last week. Mohr said that the church must be a part of the democratic movement, and that it must be a part of the democratic movement in the United States, as well as in the rest of the world.

Women Not Voting

Sixty per cent of the electors are women, and of these the majority vote for the so-called peace parties, but, on the other hand, the most politically interested groups, the war prisoners, former concentration camp inmates, and one-time Nazi party members are not voting. The Dread Companion

Hunger is the dread companion of thousands of helpless children and old and infirm persons in Germany today. Among the ruins and rubble of bombed-out cities and towns these unfortunate human beings eke out an existence so bare that it is difficult for us, in this land of plenty, to imagine its horrors.

And it isn't hunger alone that besets these suffering people. Diseases caused by malnutrition and the bitterness of the coldest European winter in many years are causing privation and misery on a terrifying scale.

A TIME FOR SACRIFICE

We know that most of you will give what you can and even make a sacrifice—especially now during the Holy Season of Lent—to alleviate the pitiable anguish of those who are unable to help themselves.
