
Holy Family '5' Downs Fulton High 35-25

Auburn—Holy Family High School players scored a duel victory over the Fulton High School quintet in a thrill-packed double feature before a large crowd of boosters at the Central High School court.

Both contests ran close throughout with Crowley's varsity emerging on the long end of the score after a thrilling overtime period. Coach Francis Quinn directing the Fulton second stringers 16-10.

The varsity clash was tied five times, Holy Family taking the lead nine times and Fulton getting ahead five times. Right down to the final frame every point scored meant a switch in the lead. The game was really settled in the initial play of the fourth by Capt. Jack Fitzpatrick on a pivot shot boosted the Holy Family count to 27 points to give the Purple and Gold a seven point edge, followed by Dick Woods' foul conversion and Moran's field goal and foul point so that at the fourth quarter midway point, the locals led 31-30.

Captain Johnny Moran who was held scoreless at Fulton a week ago was in form last night and he rewarded 12 points. The visitors were playing without their scoring star, Al Tracy, who left school to enter professional baseball by inking a tryout with the St. Louis Cardinals, it was reported. Tracy's place in the Fulton lineup was taken by Duna and Dunn with Broadwell and Ippolito, Fulton's mainstays, leading the visitors on six counts each. Last night's win was the 11th for the North Syracuse lads in 17 starts and next Friday St. Mary's of Cortland will be in Auburn.

The Holy Family layers made a second half comeback with Tomei, Delmonte, Solomon and Clary dropping in the points to win.

'Upper Room' Furnishes Title of Nuns Due Here

Spirit of the hallowed Last Supper room, birthplace of two sacraments, is the spirit of the Religious of Our Lady of Cenacle, who are seeking a home in Rochester.

The Sisters, whose special mission is the organization and conduct of spiritual retreats for women, have accepted the invitation of Bishop Kearney to establish themselves in Rochester when a suitable home can be found.

Otherwise known as the Society of Our Lady of the Retreat in the Cenacle, the order derives its title from the first Cenacle, the cradle of the Church.

Cenacle comes from the Latin word "Coenaculum," meaning upper room or chamber, which refers to the room where Christ instituted the Sacrament of Holy Eucharist and Holy Orders and where He appeared on the evening of the Resurrection.

Hence it was that the First Retreat was made after the Ascension, according to the Acts of the Apostles, by the Blessed Mother of God, the Apostles and the Holy Women. Thus, Mary in the Cenacle awaiting the coming of the Holy Spirit, became the inspiration and model of the Religious of the Cenacle.

The Society was born in 1826 at La Louvesc, France, near the tomb of St. John Francis Regis, the Jesuit apostle of the poor. The pioneers were Jean-Pierre-Ellisaga Terrasse, a lively and zealous missionary priest of the Diocese of Viviers, and Marie-Victoire-Therese Couderc, a woman twenty years of age, but already mature in courage, energy, and the living resources of faith."

Original purpose of the retreat project was to draw pilgrims to the tomb of the Francis priest and inflame them to prayer and meditation.

In 1844, Father Terme went to his eternal reward, bequeathing the young society to the care of the Society of Jesus.

Spread Through Europe

Before the end of the nineteenth century, the movement had caught fire and spread across France, Italy, Belgium, Holland and England, at length crossing the ocean to America.

Therese Couderc, the young foundress, governed the society for ten years as Mother and spent the balance of her life in promoting its apostolic mission.

She died in the odor of sanctity in the Lyons Cenacle at the age of 80 and the cause of her beatification is even now being furthered.

The Religious of the Cenacle have conducted a retreat house on Riverside Drive in New York City for the past 50 years. Elsewhere in the United States are Cenacles in Lake Ronkonkoma, L.I., Newport, Boston, Chicago, St. Louis, Warrenville, Ill., and Milwaukee, Wis.

In keeping with the spirit of the First Retreat, the present-day withdrawal into the Cenacle is a strategic marshalling of the forces of prayer and zeal.

Wainwrights' Manager Thanks Auburnians

Auburn — John (Doc) Herring, native of Rochester, speaking on behalf of the Auburn Wainwrights professional basketball team officials thanks all loyal basketball fans who supported the Wainwrights in their games at Auburn this year.

The Wainwrights who are finishing their season on the road had a certain 400 of 500 fans who supported the team to the utmost and the management wishes to thank them, Herring said. The Wainwrights' latest win was against Newark, Tri-County champions at Newark last week, 46-40.

Boy Scout Units In 26 Parishes, Coleman Reports

Boy Scout Troops are sponsored by 26 parishes, about half the parishes of the Rochester Deanery, according to a recent report issued by Harold J. Coleman, chairman of the Diocesan Lay Committee on Scouting.

In addition to the parish-sponsored troops in the Deanery, an area which conforms closely to that embraced by Otetiana Council, two other troops are sponsored by Catholic settlement houses.

Many of the parish troops, notably St. Andrew's and Our Lady of Perpetual Help, also include cub packs and senior scouting. Both of those mentioned sponsor the full scouting program. The St. Andrew's outfit is No. 70 and Perpetual Help's is 82.

Outstanding success in developing this well-rounded program is due to a large extent to the immense interest and energy which the Troop Committees of these parishes have given to this phase of the parish youth program, Mr. Coleman revealed.

Laymen's Aid Lauded

It is evident, he said, that the program so well planned and laid out by headquarters of the Boy Scouts of America and administered by the local Otetiana Council finds an ideal sponsoring organization in men's societies already well established and functioning under the leadership of the most aggressive laymen of the parishes of the city.

The settlement troops are Troop and Pack 22 of the Charles Settlement House and Troops 87 and 240 and Pack 240 of the Genesee Settlement House.

Other parishes now sponsoring the program are:

North Star District — Holy Ghost, Troop 122.

Keystone District — Sacred Heart Pro-Cathedral, Troop 68; Holy Rosary, Troop and Pack 101; Holy Cross, Troop 232; St. Charles Borromeo, Troop 248.

Northern District — St. Salome, Troop 47; St. Stanislaus, Troop 64; Holy Redeemer, Troop 159; St. Margaret Mary, Troop 196.

Western District — Most Precious Blood, Troop 7; Immaculate Conception, Pack 13, Troop 13, and Explorer Post 13; St. Augustine, Troop 91; St. Theodore, Troop 94; St. Anthony, Troop 190; Holy Family, Troop 212; St. Monica, Troop and Pack 248; Holy Apostles, Troop 249.

Pioneer District — Corpus Christi, Troop 184; St. Boniface, Troop 200; St. Francis Xavier, Troop 215; St. Michael, Troop 217.

Dan Sturzo Asks U. S. to Not Ratify Peace Treaty

Rome — (RNS) — Appeals to the United States not to ratify the Italian peace treaty continue to be made by Don Luigi Sturzo, priest-statesman and founder of the Christian Democratic Party, in a series of articles written for Roman and other Italian newspapers.

In his latest article, Don Sturzo asserted that the first Pan-American Congress at Washington in April, 1890, defined American law as opposed to the principles of conquest, while the seventh Pan-American Congress at Montevideo in 1933 affirmed the obligation not to recognize territorial acquisitions obtained by force.

"Thus," declared Don Sturzo, "the United States cannot ratify a treaty giving Italian territory to France and Yugoslavia."

Holy Cross Keglers Win 2nd Place in H. N. Loop

Auburn—Second place, the most hotly contested place in the St. Aloysius' Holy Name Bowling League, exchanged hands last Sunday as Holy Cross in winning four points replaced Notre Dame who lost four points, in order to make a clean sweep of their match with Canisius, Holy Cross had a very formidable obstacle to overcome in Lou Tonzi's 360, the high total of the day, but they met this dangerous situation by putting together Captain Paul W. Graney's 533, Eddie Geno's 533 and Tony Malfa's 503. Captain Graney reflected in his joyful smile the happy spirit of his team, who were glad to be back in second place.

The only sigh that came from the Crusaders, came from Eddie Geno who missed a place in the Big Five by one point due to a sore thumb.

Georgetown clinched first place by taking four points from Notre Dame. The leaders showed no mercy as they continued their high-powered bowling by having their customary four men in the 500 class. Johnny Miskell led off with 224 in the first game for high single of the day and rolled 563 for the second high total of the day. This inspired Andy Strapach to a 541 total and Bud Wilson to 512 with Tom Hunt just hitting 500. Notre Dame was completely submerged by this onslaught.

The Fighting Irish's star bowlers, John Terry and Jack Friedel could not get the wraps off their usually trusty right arms. Frank O'Connor was the best for the losers.

Santa Clara bounded back from their poor showing of last week to smother a lackadaisical Villanova team who are dreaming of what they might do when they wake up — if ever. Despite the loss of their captain, the "all rugged Irish" team led up by acting captain John Donnelly's 537 and Eddie Russell's 525 allowed the Villanova team to come close only in the first game.

Donnelly and Eddie Russell had their hooks bending into the 1-3 pocket consistently especially in the second game when Russell bowled 207 and Donnelly 200. Vernon Pinckney with 512 was best for the losers. This win brought Santa Clara into a tie with Loyola for 7th place and six points from fourth.

Loyola continues on in their stretch drive to vacate last place as they defeated Gonzaga three points to one.

In the last three matches, Loyola has taken 10 out of 12 points and are the "hottest" team in the league at the present time. Andy Paddock led the way to victory especially with his 209 in the first game. Captain Paul Friedel was best for the losers with 522.
