Support Missions In Japan Urges Former Chaplain

History of Christianity in Japan was reviewed in an address by the Rev. Raymond Heisel of St. Andrew's Church, former Army chaplain who was stationed in Japan, at the regular monthly meeting of the Rochester Branch Catholic Central Council Sunday afternoon at the C.Y.M.A.

Describing the remarkable work of St. Francis Xavier in Japan in 1549, Father Heisel described the intense persecution which was carried on for 25 years in the vain attempt to destroy the faith of Japanese Christians.

Although the country was closed to the outside world for several hundred years and although Christians were hunted out and killed, he pointed out, the truths of Catholicism still lived in the minds of the Japanese when the islands were opened up in 1853 by Commodore Perry to the western world.

The doctrine of faith had been passed down by word of mouth through seven generations, the former chaplain stated.

In his judgment, said Father Heisel, Japan is ready today to receive Christianity. He urged his listeners to support the missions to Japan.

William Fischer reported that Branch 104, LCBA, of St. Michael's Parish had been sending foodstuffs to The Castle of Hope, a home for infants, in Karlsruhe, Germany.

A report on the party held at the C.Y.M.A. on April 9 was given by Charles H. Mura, chairman of the committee in charge.

Edward Mirek of the Kolping Society, made an appeal for contributions of food and clothing to be sent to the members of the Kolping Society in Germany. He said that a member of the local Kolping Society would be glad to pick up such articles on request. He also stated that the Ladies Auxiliary was collecting papers and rags to raise funds for the same purpose.

Proposed amendments to the Constitution and By-laws of the State Branch were explained by Joseph H. Gervais. Mr. Gervais also reported as chairman of the Credit Union Committee that Holy Family Parish Credit Union has voted to affiliate with the Central Verein.

August M. Maier, president,

SCOUT-O-RAMA SHOWS WHAT BOYS CAN DO

One of the 11 sections devoted to Catholic groups at the Scout-O-Rama Show at the Empire Auditorium Saturday afternoon. The show, featuring 100 exhibits, was opened to the public at 1 p.m. and closed at 5 p.m.

Scout-O-Rama Attracts 25,000 Persons. Catholic Groups' Exhibits Acclaimed

By JAMES V. TAYLOR

An estimated 25,000 persons saw the Arena Show, and over 100 exhibits at the Scout-O-Rama

Empire Auditorium Saturday afternoon and evening.

Crowds reminiscent of the old Rochester Exposition pressed about the different booths, each exhibit a display of a skill required to obtain a merit badge.

The boys of the troop or cub pack were on hand to demonstrate and explain. They found a continuous audience full of curiosity and amazement.

The exhibits showing actual work being performed as in the model blacksmith shop, wood working carpentry, leatherwork, and other manual training booths proved to be particular attractions. Widespread interest in the photography, finger printing, coin and stamp collecting, and other hobby exhibits held the interest of countless visitors.

Booths equipped with abundant material on fire prevention, public safety, public health, conservation, and First Aid demonstrated practical knowledge necessary to achieve merit awards in these subjects.

Ample evidence of ability to take care of themselves in the open was everywhere present. The study of Indian lore, weather observation, pathfinding, canoeing, marksmanship, were among the skills shown which other exhibits were being shown and explained while a model Scout camp gave broad scope for proving that the great outdoors belongs to boys.

The Arena Show too showed a seat thoroughly at home in the Empire Auditorium before a packed audience. The building of a fire with flint and steel and by friction, the quick erection of well-atched fences, and the construction from logs and saplings of signal towers, bridges and flag pole assembly was accomplished in the matter of minutes, giving vivid evidence of teamwork and skill.

The whole show answered the question of what about 8,000 boys of Rochester and vicinity do with their leisure hours. The leisure time of several hundred men who act as leaders, Scout Counsellors, and active members of the organizations sponsoring the troops was also well accounted for in this show.

The many hours required to organize and assemble such a large and diversified exhibition alone is a contribution entitling them to great credit and appreciation.

Booths were erected and maintained by scouts from the following Catholic sponsoring parishes and groups: Sacred Heart, Holy Rosary, St. Charles Borromeo, Immaculate Conception, Charles Borromeo, House, Holy Family, St. Michael's, Corpus Christi, St. Benedict, St. Agnes, St. Peter, St. Peter, St. Michael's, Holy Cross, Charlotte, Immaculate Conception, Holy Child, Cathedral, St. Margaret Mary, St. Benedict.

Participating in the Arena

Show were present from St. Andrews, O. L. P. H. St. Jerome,

St. Matthew, St. Michael's

Holy Cross, Charlotte, Immacu-
